PANTHERS

THIS IS PITT FOOTBALL

ONCE A PANTHER, ALWAYS A PANTHER

As a Pitt football player, you are part of a huge extended family that includes some of the world's most accomplished athletes, people and professionals. Each year, several generations of former Panthers return to Pittsburgh to support their alma mater and the Pitt football team. Hall of Fame running back Tony Dorsett sums up the Pitt spirit best when he says, "I never miss an opportunity to come back."

Dave Wannstedt with Tony Siragusa

"My four years at Pitt were four of the most important and happiest years of my life. My experience there helped shape who I am as a person and taught me many valuable things about life. Pitt means everything to me. I owe my life to the experiences I had playing football at Pitt."

Hall of Famer Mike Ditka

"A PITT MAN"

"PITTSBURGH HAS ALWAYS BEEN A SPECIAL PLACE IN MY HEART."

Dave Wannstedt has worked in practically every region of the country during his highly accomplished career. But whether he was coaching in Los Angeles, Dallas or Miami, there has truly been only one place he considered home — Pittsburgh.

"I BELIEVE I CAN MAKE A DIFFERENCE ON THE FOOTBALL FIELD, BUT JUST AS IMPORTANT, I BELIEVE I CAN MAKE A DIFFERENCE AT THE UNIVERSITY AND IN THE COMMUNITY. I THINK ALL THOSE THINGS ARE VITAL AND ALL THOSE THINGS ARE VERY IMPORTANT."

Wannstedt with legendary coach John Majors.

"WE WERE IN A STAFF MEETING AND I'M SITTING AT THE FAR END OF THE TABLE — IT WAS THE '76 YEAR, THE YEAR WE (PITT) WON THE NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP — AND I THINK MY JOB THAT DAY WAS TO MAKE THE COFFEE. I'M LOOKING AT COACH (JOHN) MAJORS AND SAID TO MYSELF, 'SOMEDAY, I WILL BE THE HEAD COACH AT THE UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH.'"

PANTHERS IN THE PRO BOWL

Pitt not only produces draft picks, it produces draft picks who have gone on to thrive in the National Football League. Over the last two decades, the Panthers have been well represented in the Pro Bowl, the NFL's annual showcase of stars.

Larry Fitzgerald

Darrelle Revis

The 2009 Pro Bowl was no exception. Former Panthers wide receiver Larry Fitzgerald (Arizona Cardinals) was named the Pro Bowl MVP, and former Pitt cornerback Darrelle Revis (New York Jets) was invited to his first Pro Bowl in just his second season in the NFL.

In addition to Fitzgerald and Revis, other Pitt products who have been Pro Bowl fixtures this decade include a pair of future Pro Football Hall of Famers in offensive lineman Ruben Brown and running back Curtis Martin, as well as punter Andy Lee. During the 1990s, the Panthers had 10 players make Pro Bowl berths, the fourth-highest total of any school in the country.

NFL PIPELINE

The University of Pittsburgh has long been a fertile source of talent for the National Football League. Pitt has not only provided players in great quantity to the NFL, but also has produced some of the finest performers in pro football history.

NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS

Pitt has won nine national championships — the most of any NCAA Division I-A (FBS) program in the East and the sixth best ever. Pitt's national champion teams not only ranked as the best in the land in that given year, but in many cases were among the elite teams in college football history.

ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENT

Dave Wannstedt owns not one but two degrees from the University of Pittsburgh. "I know firsthand the high value of a Pitt education," Wannstedt says. "I know Pitt players who have gone on to the NFL. But I also know just as many who have gone on to be successful in business, medicine, law, teaching and broadcasting. An education lasts a lifetime and it is an unquestioned priority for our program."

MEDIA SPOTLIGHT

When you play football at Pitt, people know it. As one of the country's historic college programs, the Panthers garner plenty of media attention. So it's a frequent sight to see a Pitt player chatting with a newspaper reporter or stepping in front of a television camera after practice or the game.

COMMUNITY MINDED

At Pitt, you are more than just a football player. The University of Pittsburgh works to give its student-athletes a complete, well-rounded experience. Part of that experience is giving back to the community.

PITTSBURGH

AMERICA'S MOST LIVABLE CITY

Pittsburgh has been rated America's "Most Livable City" by Places Rated Almanac and The Economist.

In 2009, USA Today listed the view from the Duquesne Incline as one of the top 10 places to view a skyline in the world.

Pittsburgh has been selected to host September's G-20 Summit of world leaders. President Barack Obama selected the Steel City due to its "commitment to employing new and green technology to further economic recovery and development," the White House stated.

THIS IS PITT

The University of Pittsburgh campus is a place of delightful contrasts: Unabashedly urban, yet dotted with gardens and trees. Situated on the edge of 456-acre wooded Schenley Park, the campus weaves in and out of an exciting section of city known as Oakland, the city's cultural and medical center.

- Founded in a log cabin in 1787, the University of Pittsburgh is among the oldest institutions of higher education in the United States. Pitt has more than 225,000 alumni living in all 50 states and territories and 119 foreign countries.
- Pitt's academic record is outstanding, rating among the leading national and international universities in the United States. Pitt offers 400 distinct degree programs. Its faculty includes many world-renowned scholars, researchers and innovators.

- Pitt has a strong record of educating students who earn the most prestigious forms of national and international recognition. In undergraduate education, just nine universities, in addition to the three national service academies, claimed both Rhodes and Marshall Scholars in 2007. Pitt is the only public university in that elite group, which includes Cornell, PITT, Duke, Princeton, Georgetown, Washington University, Harvard, Yale and NYU. This year, a Pitt senior received a Gates Cambridge Scholarship, one of 37 U.S. students to receive the award in 2009 and the first Pitt student to receive the scholarship since it was established in 2000 through the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation.
- Just since 1995, in fact, Pitt undergraduates have won two Rhodes Scholarships, six Marshall Scholarships, five Truman Scholarships, four Udall Scholarships, one Churchill Scholarship, 33 Goldwater Scholarships, and seven Humanity in Action (HIA) Fellowships, the fourth consecutive year that Pitt has competed successfully in the HIA fellowship program. And, for the first time this year, a Pitt undergraduate won the University of Oxford's Clarendon and Dervorguilla awards.

■ Alumni of the University of Pittsburgh are also nationally and internationally recognized. Pitt graduates have earned the Nobel Peace Prize, Nobel Prize in medicine, Pulitzer Prize for fiction, Shaw Prize in medicine, Albany Prize in medicine, Fritz Medal in engineering, Templeton Prize and Grainger Challenge Prize for sustainability.

■ Pitt serves as a vital economic engine in its home region. Through its research program alone, the University imports more than $620 million into the region each year, and those research dollars support more than 17,000 local jobs while also generating the ideas upon which the economy of the future will be built.

■ In research, Pitt ranks fifth among all U.S. universities in terms of the competitive grants awarded to members of its faculty by the National Institutes of Health. Its rich legacy includes developing the vaccine that won this nation's war against polio as well as both the surgical techniques and drug therapies that have made human organ transplantation a treatment option that is available around the world. Pitt faculty members are leading the way in areas as diverse as computer modeling, gerontology, philosophy of science, nanotechnology and urban education, as well as in a host of other areas.

■ Since 1974, the University of Pittsburgh has been a member of the prestigious Association of American Universities, an association which includes the 62 most prominent national research universities in North America.

■ Pitt was one of just seven AAU-member research universities included in a list of "best neighbor" urban colleges and universities released by the President of the New England Board of Higher Education (NEBHE) in 2006. Pitt was among those universities referred to as "Saviors of Our Cities" that "dramatically strengthened the economy and quality of life of their neighboring communities."

■ Since 1996, enrollment at Pitt has increased by more than 2,600 students. At the same time, admission has become more selective; 46 percent of Pitt's first-year students graduated in the top 10 percent of their class, compared to 22 percent in 1996.

PITT IRON WORKS

BUILDING A STRONG BODY

Buddy Morris

The road to greatness begins in the "Pitt Iron Works," also known as the Pitt football weight room. Under the direction of nationally renowned strength and conditioning coach Buddy Morris, the Iron Works is used 12 months out of the year and features the latest in strength equipment and training methods.

The Pitt Iron Works was named one of the 10 toughest gyms in the country by Muscle & Fitness Magazine — the only college or pro program in the nation.

IRON WORKS PITTSBURGH

very seriously, and Iron Works — coined in the 1980s by head strength coach Buddy Morris — is home to a college strength and conditioning program unlike any other. In fact, the conventional "strength and conditioning" moniker isn't used inside Iron Works, because it doesn't even begin to describe what Morris and assistant strength coach James Smith do. Instead, Morris and Smith call themselves "coaches of physical preparation." Their training, with its individualized volumes and intensities, and a particular emphasis on the building of an iron will, is rooted in Eastern Bloc methods learned from Olympic coaches in the former Soviet Union.

"Nobody does it like Pitt," says Elite Fitness Systems owner Dave Tate, whose business it is to know such things. "I deal with just about every program in the country, and what they're doing there is unique. From what I've seen, Iron Works is the primary reason for Pitt's turnaround, and the work they're doing will keep them among college football's best for years to come."

In the Steel City, forging national championships — and Super Bowls — is a matter of municipal pride. Behavior or effort inconsistent with this goal, says Smith, "will result in an immediate reckoning."

- » Band-resisted terminal knee extension: 2-3x15-20

- » 15 box jumps

"Weight-training is no different from playing football — it requires discipline. You have to grind it out. That's what Pittsburghers and Pitt football players do. We are people who roll up our sleeves and aren't afraid to sweat and sacrifice. We push our guys harder than what they think they are capable of. Our goal is to maximize every ounce of our players' athletic potential."

CITY OF CHAMPIONS

Pittsburgh has regained its claim as the City of Champions. The Panthers are part of a great city sports family that includes pro franchises in football, baseball and hockey. The Super Bowl Champion Steelers of the NFL, the Pirates of Major League Baseball and the Stanley Cup Champion Penguins of the NHL all call Pittsburgh home and, along with the Panthers, are an exciting part of the city's flavor.

2009 PREVIEW

THE OFFENSE

QUARTERBACK

WHO'S BACK: Senior Bill Stull was Pitt's starter in 2008, completing 57% of his passes (188 of 330) for 2,356 yards with nine touchdowns and 10 interceptions. He was part of four come-from-behind victories in the final quarter, including what might have been his finest outing, a nationally televised Thursday night win at No. 10 USF when Stull threw for 228 yards (16-of-27 passing) and a TD with no interceptions.

Junior Pat Bostick was the primary backup last season, appearing in six games and making one start when Stull was out due to injury (a 36-33 four-overtime victory at Notre Dame). Bostick completed 22-of-41 passes for 270 yards with one TD and four interceptions on the year. He made eight starts as a true freshman in 2007. Tino Sunseri enters his first active season after redshirting as a true freshman. Sunseri was an all-state performer at nearby Pittsburgh Central Catholic as a high school senior. Sophomore walk-on Andrew Janocko also returns.

WHO'S NEW: The Panthers' recruiting arm stretched to Texas to sign dual-threat quarterback Kolby Gray, who threw for nearly 5,000 yards and rushed for more than 1,300 during his final two seasons at Cypress Falls.

NOTABLE: Pitt signal callers will be under the tutelage of new offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach Frank Cignetti, a 20-year coaching veteran who held similar posts at Cal, North Carolina and Fresno State.

QUOTABLE: "Bill Stull and Pat Bostick are both upperclassmen who have significant starting experience," Frank Cignetti said. "That is a major asset for our football team. Tino Sunseri has great potential but he is yet to take his first game snap. All of our quarterbacks want to compete and improve. Whether it is the film room, practice field or a real live game, that attitude will help us be the best we can be at quarterback."

RUNNING BACK

WHO'S BACK: One of the most watched position battles of training camp figures to be at tailback, where LeSean McCoy starred the past two seasons before departing for the NFL.

Leading the competition are redshirt freshman Chris Burns, sophomore Shariff Harris and freshman Dion Lewis, an early high school graduate (New Jersey's Blair Academy) who enrolled at Pitt in January and participated in spring drills. Harris is the only player of the three to carry the ball on the college level.

Sophomore Henry Hynoski will look to elevate into the starting fullback role after lettering as a reserve last season. Also vying for time at fullback will be junior Kevin Collier, who previously lettered at tailback, and junior walk-on Joe Capp, a transfer from Texas Tech in his first active season at Pitt.

WHO'S NEW: In addition to Dion Lewis, Pitt will welcome two other freshman tailbacks for 2009. Jason Douglas was a 1,000-yard rusher for Cypress Bay, a Florida 6A (largest classification) school. Ray Graham was a PrepStar All-American and considered one of New Jersey's top five prospects after rushing for nearly 1,600 yards and scoring 24 touchdowns at Elizabeth High.

NOTABLE: LeSean McCoy, who rushed for 2,816 yards and 36 touchdowns in two collegiate seasons, is the first Pitt tailback to declare early for the NFL Draft since Curtis Martin in 1995. McCoy was drafted by the Philadelphia Eagles this past April.

QUOTABLE: "The most accurate description of our backs heading into the season is 'inexperience,'" running backs coach David Walker said. "We do not have a player who has started a game or had significant carries in a game. Our job is to get these guys as much experience as we can through film study and repetitions on the practice field. The desire and ability are there. The experience of doing it under fire is not there, but through hard work and dedication we intend to have a productive group in the backfield this year."

WIDE RECEIVERS

WHO'S BACK: The top two producers at split end last year are back in sophomore Jonathan Baldwin and senior Oderick Turner, both big targets who can go up and get the ball in traffic. Baldwin averaged a team-best 22.4 yards per catch (18 receptions for 404 yards) and tied for the team lead with three receiving touchdowns. Turner had 21 catches for 298 yards (14.2 avg.) and one TD. Redshirt freshman Mike Shanahan and senior Greg Cross, who played quarterback as a first-year junior-college transfer last season, will also provide competition at this spot.

Senior Cedric McGee is a leading candidate to earn the starting job at flanker. Lauded as the unit's toughest and most dependable performer, McGee had 23 catches for 201 yards last year. He will be pushed by a pair of sophomores in Aundre Wright, who lettered as a kick returner and reserve receiver in 2008, and Aaron Smith. Also in the flanker mix will be redshirt freshman Cameron Saddler, a highly regarded recruit who missed last year due to a preseason knee injury. Redshirt frosh walk-on Caleb Wilson is capable of providing depth at either receiver spot.

WHO'S NEW: Pitt adds three freshmen receivers with Pennsylvania roots. Todd Thomas was a three-time all-state selection at three different positions (receiver, running back and defensive back) for Beaver Falls. The national top 100 recruit earned Tom Lemming and PrepStar All-America honors after averaging 10 yards per touch as a senior. Devin Street was another all-state performer, averaging nearly 17 yards per catch, and led Liberty High to a 15-1 record and the PIAA Class AAAA (largest classification) championship. Ed Tinker is a former Pittsburgh City League star (Brashear) who spent last year at North Carolina Tech, where he averaged an incredible 29.2 yards per catch.

NOTABLE: As a true freshman last year, Jonathan Baldwin was responsible for two of the three longest touchdown receptions by the Panthers, including a 60-yard touchdown catch at Navy and 52-yard score at USF. (Departed senior Derek Kinder, a Chicago Bears draft pick, had the longest scoring catch of the year, a 61-yarder at Connecticut.)

Wide receiver
Jonathan Baldwin

QUOTABLE: "We have a good combination of veteran experience and young potential," receivers coach Bryan Bossard said. "Baldwin, McGee and Turner helped Pitt win nine football games last year. They've been in the battles and know what to expect. I am very excited to see how some of our younger guys develop and who steps up to push and complement our three returning receivers."

TIGHT ENDS

WHO'S BACK: Pitt boasts a talented and experienced tight end tandem with the return of seniors Nate Byham and Dorin Dickerson.

Byham was a 2008 first-team All-Big East selection, an unprecedented achievement for a Pitt tight end, after he caught 20 passes for 260 yards (13.0 avg.) with one touchdown. He also was a major asset in the run game, helping Pitt produce a 1,000-yard rusher for the second consecutive year.

The athletic Dickerson is a strong complement to Byham. In his first year at tight end last year, he caught 13 passes for 174 yards (13.4 avg.) and two TDs. One of the team's fastest players, Dickerson can stretch the field like a wide receiver, creating matchup problems for opposing defenses.

Additionally, Mike Cruz and Justin Virbitsky enter their first active seasons following freshman redshirts.

WHO'S NEW: Pitt signed one of the nation's top tight end prospects in Brock DeCicco out of perennial Pennsylvania power Thomas Jefferson. DeCicco, a SuperPrep and Tom Lemming All-American, averaged 22.6 yards per catch and scored 11 touchdowns as a senior.

NOTABLE: Nate Byham is the first Pitt tight end to earn first-team All-Big East honors and just the third to be honored on the all-conference team overall. The Panthers' last honoree at tight end was Kris Wilson, a second-team pick in 2003 and current member of the San Diego Chargers.

QUOTABLE: "Our tight ends bring a hard-working, blue-collar approach to the game," positional coach Brian Angelichio said. "We have two valuable seniors in Nate and Dorin. They are talented and know what is expected from a game and practice standpoint. I think they are both poised for their best seasons yet. Their leadership and the example they set will help our younger players in their development."

OFFENSIVE LINE

WHO'S BACK: Four players return with starting experience, making this one of Pitt's most promising units.

Heading into training camp the starting tackle spots will be manned by junior Jason Pinkston on the left and sophomore Lucas Nix on the right. Pinkston enters his second year as a starter, while the promising Nix lettered as a reserve last season.

Also challenging for time at offensive tackle will be a trio of sophomores, including Jordan Gibbs, Greg Gaskins and Dan Matha. Redshirt freshman walk-on Keith Coleman is also in the tackle mix.

Senior John Malecki enters his second season as the starter at right guard after making a highly successful transition last year from defense. The top competitors for the starting left guard assignment are sophomore Chris Jacobson and senior Joe Thomas. A highly regarded recruit two years ago, Jacobson is finally healthy after struggling with injuries his initial two seasons. Thomas has 27 career starts on Pitt's offensive line, including all 13 games at right tackle last year. He was a part-time starter at guard in 2006 and '07.

Depth at guard will be provided by junior Jared Martin, sophomore John Fieger, redshirt freshman Ryan Turnley and senior walk-on Josh Novotny.

Pitt returns a proven commodity at center in senior Robb Houser, who started the 2008 season's first seven games before suffering a year-ending ankle fracture. A healthy Houser returned for the spring and is expected to be ready to reclaim his starting job. He will be pushed by junior letterman Alex Karabin, a walk-on who has provided key contributions during his career. Sophomore Wayne Jones will also look to be a factor at this position.

WHO'S NEW: Pitt will add four incoming freshmen to its offensive line. Fernando Diaz was one of the top prospects in New York following an all-star career at Cardinal Hayes High in the Bronx. Juantez Hollins (Aliquippa) and Ryan Schlieper (North Allegheny) are both Western Pennsylvania products and first-team all-state performers. Another Keystone State product, Cory King, was a four-year starter for Lakeview High.

NOTABLE: Pitt's offensive line helped departed tailback LeSean McCoy produce back-to-back 1,000-yard rushing seasons in 2007 and '08. The last time the Panthers had a 1,000-yard rusher in consecutive years was 1993-94.

Offensive tackle
Jason Pinkston

QUOTABLE: "We have four players back with starting experience and they will need to be building blocks for us," offensive line coach Tony Wise said. "Even with that veteran base, we still need some younger players to step up into prominent roles. They may be inexperienced but they do have talent. Our goal is to be a continuously improving line that establishes itself as a highly productive and effective unit."

THE DEFENSE

DEFENSIVE LINE

WHO'S BACK: This is Pitt's deepest and perhaps most talented defensive front in recent memory.

The Panthers' defensive end tandem of juniors Greg Romeus and Jabaal Sheard should receive consideration as one of the nation's best. Romeus was an All-Big East pick after compiling 51 tackles, 15.5 TFLs and a team-high 7.5 sacks. He additionally blocked three extra points. Sheard was extremely productive as well last season with 45 tackles, 10.5 TFLs and 5.5 sacks. An exceptional pass rusher, he had a team-high 11 QB hurries and deflected seven passes.

Pitt boasts excellent depth behind its standout ends. Sophomores Tony Tucker and Justin Hargrove have both lettered in reserve roles. Also vying for time are sophomore Brandon Lindsey, a letterman at linebacker who moved to end this spring, and redshirt freshman Shayne Hale.

The Panthers are equally strong on the interior. Senior Mick Williams is the returning starter at tackle and could be ready for an all-star year. Vying for the top reserve spot behind Williams will be a pair of lettermen in junior Tyler Tkach and sophomore Chas Alecxih.

Senior Gus Mustakas will look to man the nose tackle spot, although he boasts the versatility to play either of the interior tackle positions. Mustakas will be pushed by sophomore Myles Caragein, who saw significant action as a backup last year. Senior letterman Craig Bokor will also be a factor at nose tackle.

WHO'S NEW: Pitt signed three highly regarded defensive linemen in its 2009 recruiting class, including Tyrone Ezell, Jack Lippert and Bernardo Nunez. Pennsylvania products Ezell (Steel Valley) and Lippert (Central Dauphin) were both Tom Lemming All-Americans and first team all-state. Nunez was an All-New Jersey honoree and four-year starter at Hoboken High.

NOTABLE: Greg Romeus concluded his all-star sophomore campaign by being selected the Sun Bowl's Most Valuable Lineman. Romeus had four tackles, two quarterback sacks (for minus 20 yards) and another QB hurry in helping to limit Oregon State to just three points.

QUOTABLE: "Our defensive line has both experience and depth," positional coach Greg Gattuso said. "Our front four is comprised of players who have either started or played significantly. I look at them all as returning starters. This year's line has a chance to be a great group. We would like to start this season playing the way we ended last year, playing fast and aggressive."

LINEBACKERS

WHO'S BACK: This unit will need the most retooling with the loss of two highly productive starters. The biggest hole is in the middle, where All-America Scott McKillop must be replaced.

Providing a viable answer at the "Mike" linebacker spot is sixth-year senior Adam Gunn, who played in only one game in 2008 due to a season-ending neck injury in the opener. Granted an extra year of eligibility by the NCAA, Gunn emerged as the frontrunner for the starting spot with a productive spring. He started at Sam linebacker as a junior in 2007.

Competing with Gunn in the middle will be senior Steve Dell, a three-year letterman and the top backup last year. Also figuring in the competition at the Mike spot is redshirt freshman Joe Trebitz. Redshirt frosh walk-ons Jon Taglianetti and Nick Tate will provide depth.

Sophomore letterman Max Gruder used a strong offseason to jump to the top of the depth chart at Will linebacker. He will be pushed by senior Shane Murray, who was a starter at this position in 2007 before being sidelined for all but one game last year with a knee injury. Murray could also contribute in the middle. Rounding out the competition at the Will is sophomore Tristan Roberts, a special teams letterman last year.

The linebacker unit's lone returning starter is sophomore Greg Williams, who had a solid debut season at the Sam. A converted tailback, Williams took over the starting role in the second game of the year for the injured Adam Gunn and went on to compile 47 tackles, 6.5 TFLs and 3.5 sacks. He additionally had two interceptions, including one returned for a TD. Junior letterman Nate Nix will vie for time behind Williams. Manny Williams, a promising redshirt freshman, will also compete at the Sam.

WHO'S NEW: Three freshmen linebackers will join the Panthers for training camp. Local product Dan Mason was a PrepStar and SuperPrep All-American after a highly accomplished career at Penn Hills. Florida import Shane Gordon earned all-state at Cypress Bay, while Carl Fleming was one of the top prospects in the Baltimore/District of Columbia area after starring at Maryland's Franklin Senior High.

NOTABLE: Pitt boasts two first-team All-America linebackers in the past three years. Scott McKillop (2008) and H.B. Blades (2006) were both named to the Football Writers All-America Team and selected the Big East Defensive Player of the Year following their senior seasons.

Defensive tackle Mick Williams

Defensive end Greg Romeus

QUOTABLE: "We have built an outstanding linebacker tradition under Coach Wannstedt," positional coach Joe Tumpkin said. "Our players are very aware of that and want to continue the excellence established by All-Americans like Scott McKillop and H.B. Blades. Our players have high expectations for themselves and that is always a very positive thing."

SECONDARY

WHO'S BACK: The Pitt secondary returns virtually intact for 2009. The Panthers welcome back three starters and 10 lettermen overall.

Three cornerbacks with starting experience return, including senior Aaron Berry. An All-Big East performer last year, Berry had a team-high 10 pass breakups and was second with three interceptions. Two seasoned veterans are battling to start opposite Berry in senior Jovani Chappel and junior Ricky Gary. Chappel and Gary split the starting duties last season.

Other returning lettermen at cornerback include sophomores Antwuan Reed and Buddy Jackson. Entering his first active season following a freshman redshirt is Jarred Holley, a highly touted 2008 recruit who could also figure in at strong safety. Redshirt frosh walk-on Jeremiah Davis will also compete at corner.

Junior Dom DeCicco returns as the starter at strong safety. DeCicco led the team with four interceptions and tied for second with seven PBUs. He also was strong in run defense, collecting 56 tackles. Providing depth behind DeCicco will be senior Irvan Brown, a three-year letterman. Also competing at strong safety will be redshirt freshman walk-on Marco Pecora.

Junior Elijah Fields is a leading candidate to earn the starting free safety job. Fields saw prominent time at the strong spot last year to letter. He will be pushed by sophomore Andrew Taglianetti, who distinguished himself as a true frosh by blocking three punts and seeing time in specialized secondary packages. Senior walk-on Dan Cafaro, a special teams letterman, is also in the mix at free.

WHO'S NEW: Pitt adds a pair of freshmen defensive backs from the state of New Jersey in Kevin Adams (St. Joseph Regional) and Jason Hendricks (Hudson Catholic).

Both ranked among the Garden State's top prospects after starring on both sides of the ball for their respective schools last year.

NOTABLE: Pitt intercepted 16 passes in 2008, the second-highest total for the Panthers since 1996. Only the Panthers' 2004 Fiesta Bowl team had more picks (17) during that span.

QUOTABLE: "This is a big year for our secondary," positional coach Jeff Hafley said. "We grew up on the job last year and now our goal for 2009 is consistency. We want to go out every week, every game and every play and perform to the best of our abilities. We want to be a strength for the Pitt defense and I believe we have the potential to achieve that."

THE SPECIALISTS

WHO'S BACK: Pitt will be breaking in two new specialists at placekicker and punter.

Conor Lee graduated as the most accurate placekicker in Pitt history, converting 83% of his field goals and 100% of his PATs during his career. The first-team All-Big East performer handled every placement for the Panthers during the past three seasons. Also gone is Dave Brytus, a two-year starter at punter.

Candidates at placekicker include redshirt freshman Kevin Harper, junior Dan Hutchins and junior Luke Briggs, who lettered as a kickoff specialist last season.

In addition to vying for the kicking duties, Hutchins could also surface as Pitt's starting punter. Contributing as a backup last year, he averaged 41 yards on two punts with a long of 47. Redshirt freshmen Aaron Hassett and Pat Costello will also compete at punter.

Sophomore Andrew Janocko will handle the holding duties for the second consecutive year. The Panthers lost four-year letterman Mark Estermyer at long snapper. Looking to replace him are sophomore John Fieger and redshirt freshman Mike Cruz.

Top kick returner candidates include sophomores Aundre Wright and Antwuan Reed and redshirt freshmen Cameron Saddler and Chris Burns. Wright averaged 21 yards on 26 kick returns last year. Saddler, along with sophomores Aaron Smith and Andrew Taglianetti, and redshirt frosh Jarred Holley, will vie for the punt returner duties.

WHO'S NEW: Pitt did not sign any specialists in its 2009 recruiting class.

NOTABLE: Pitt led the country with a school-record 10 blocked kicks last year. Defensive end Greg Romeus and defensive back Andrew Taglianetti led the Panthers with three blocks each.

QUOTABLE: "Special teams can make momentum-changing plays to help you win football games," Coach Dave Wannstedt said. "Certainly that was the case with our team last year. It is one-third of the game and we will continue to put a high priority on it."

PITT

DAVE WANNSTEDT

HEAD COACH

The 2008 season served notice that Dave Wannstedt's Pitt football program is on the rise.

Using a blueprint Wannstedt began cultivating four years ago upon taking over as head coach of his alma mater, the Panthers ascended to a 9-3 regular-season mark and second-place finish in the Big East Conference. The reward was a trip back to the postseason as Pitt received an invite to El Paso for the 2008 Sun Bowl.

All indications are that last season's success is just the beginning. With Wannstedt's recent string of strong recruiting classes, and the infusion of a winning culture at Pitt, the Panthers will look to take another significant step this year.

A winning brand of football and postseason berths are nothing new to Wannstedt. The 34-year coaching veteran has been part of 11 bowl teams as a collegiate coach, including two undefeated national champions — the 1976 Pitt Panthers and 1987 Miami Hurricanes. In total his 18 years of collegiate coaching experience include 12 winning campaigns and a 137-71-4 record.

On the professional level, Wannstedt was part of six NFL playoff teams and a Super Bowl champion (the 1992 Dallas Cowboys).

Although his professional travels have taken him all over the country, Wannstedt has always considered Pittsburgh his home.

When Wannstedt speaks about Pitt and Pittsburgh, there is an unmistakable strength of conviction. He owns not one but two degrees from the University of Pittsburgh. He is a living, breathing example of a Pitt education and Pitt football.

"There might be no other coach in the country who knows the very soil beneath him better than 'Wanny,'" CBS Sportsline.com senior writer Dennis Dodd said. "Wannstedt's blood and sweat literally stain the grass at his alma mater."

"I wouldn't want to do this job anywhere else," Wannstedt said. "I love Pitt and I love the city of Pittsburgh."

The scene outside of Wannstedt's office windows in the Pitt football practice facility provides a view that is uniquely Pittsburgh and totally fitting for the Panthers' head coach.

The immediate view is to the east, where in the foreground the Panthers' lush grass practice fields capture the eye.

Just beyond the green fields sit steel mills, a reminder of the city's industrial heritage and, for decades, the economic lifeblood of the region.

A gaze back to the west and one can soak in Pittsburgh's breathtaking skyline. The skyscrapers now symbolize the "new Pittsburgh," the former steel city that has evolved into a thriving center for corporations, medicine and higher education.

Although he spent most of the last three decades residing outside of Pittsburgh, these views still remain familiar and comforting for Wannstedt.

He, too, once worked during the summers in the mills that inhabited a stretch of land located off Pittsburgh's Second Avenue. Wannstedt would labor alongside his father, Frank, and then head to old Pitt Stadium to pump a different kind of iron in the Panthers' weight room in preparation for the upcoming season.

Each of these scenes — the football fields, steel mills and the city — are embedded in Wannstedt. "Pittsburgh never really left me," he said. "It's always been a special place in my heart."

That is why, more than 30 years after captaining the Panthers' 1973 Fiesta Bowl team, Wannstedt was the perfect choice to lead the University of Pittsburgh's football program. He was named Pitt's 34th head coach on December 23, 2004.

A rugged offensive tackle for the Panthers from 1970-73, Wannstedt returned to his alma mater with three decades of highly accomplished coaching experience on the collegiate level and in the National Football League. His career has produced three championship rings, including a Super Bowl title and two national collegiate championships.

These days, Wannstedt only wears his Pitt 1976 national championship ring. "Our players and prospects should know that I was part of the greatest team Pitt ever had," he said. "I take pride in that."

"This opportunity is something I have dreamed about since my early coaching days at Pitt," said Wannstedt, who is a native of Baldwin, Pa.

Wannstedt is the ninth graduate of the school to lead the Panthers' football program.

A "Pitt Man" through and through, Wannstedt has served as a bridge to the program's past — the visits by former players and alumni have reached unprecedented levels — as he is driving the Panthers strongly into the future.

"Dave is a Pitt guy," said Mike Ditka, an All-America end for the Panthers before he went on to a Hall of Fame playing and coaching career in the NFL. "Dave has a commitment to this university. The excitement created since Dave came back probably hasn't happened in, what, 20 years? Dave is the right guy to lead this program. He's a young guy with a lot of enthusiasm and he's really proud to be a Pittsburgh guy."

In 2006, Wannstedt and his wife Jan gave a $250,000 gift to the University of Pittsburgh to endow a football scholarship.

"As a high school senior growing up in Baldwin, I was provided with the life-changing opportunity to receive an outstanding education and play major-college football due to a scholarship," Wannstedt said. "We want to be able to help provide those same opportunities for both current and future generations of student-athletes."

The opportunities Wannstedt refers to are perfectly captured by his 2008 senior class, which helped lead the Panthers' most recent revival.

Of the 14 scholarship seniors on last year's team, 12 have officially earned their degrees. Additionally, seven members of the class signed NFL contracts.

PITT

"The first and most important goal we have for our players is for them to earn their degree from this outstanding institution," Wannstedt said. "That degree is a life-changing achievement. Secondly, if a young man aspires to play professional football, we are going to work hard to give him all the tools — physically, mentally and personally — that can help his dream become a reality.

"Ultimately, the University of Pittsburgh will mean more to you than just four years of school and football. Even after your last class and final game, your Pitt experience will continue to influence and inspire everything you do as a person, professional and citizen. There's a reason people from this university have helped change our world in so many positive ways. That's the power of Pitt."

Wannstedt rejoined the college ranks after spending the prior 16 years in the NFL. Eleven of those years were as a head coach, including six with the Chicago Bears (1993-98) and five with the Miami Dolphins (2000-04).

It all began, though, in Pittsburgh, where first he was a star at Baldwin High and later played a key role in Pitt football's resurgence in the 1970s.

"Dave was such a leader," said Jim Gillooly, his high school football coach. "Dave would scramble up the side of the hill on all fours, in the weeds and the brush, to get in shape. He made a big W-A-N-N in the side of the hill. That became part of our drill, the Wannstedt Drill. Even after Dave was gone."

Wannstedt was a three-sport star for Baldwin in football, basketball and track and field. He earned all-state in football and played in the prestigious Big 33 Classic all-star game. Wannstedt captained both the Highlanders' football and basketball squads before graduating in 1970.

Earning a scholarship to the University of Pittsburgh, he played on the freshman team during the '70 season (freshmen were then not eligible for varsity competition) and earned a starting job as just a sophomore.

John Majors took over as head coach at Pitt for Wannstedt's senior year and led the team to a 6-4-1 regular season and Fiesta Bowl berth. The '73 campaign was the launching pad for Pitt's juggernaut success the rest of the decade that included a 55-15-1 mark (.782), a national championship and five bowls over the next six years. Wannstedt was one of the '73 team's unsung heroes, providing tough blocking from his left tackle spot. His efforts helped a young back named Tony Dorsett rush for 1,686 yards.

Although he was selected by the Green Bay Packers in the 1974 draft, a neck injury cut short Wannstedt's pro aspirations. He returned to Pitt and started his coaching career as a graduate assistant under Majors in 1975 and 1976.

"I knew he had big things ahead of him," Majors said. "You could see it and sense it. He was self-motivated and tough. He was fierce, and everyone around him respected him. He did things the right way, with hard work and dedication. I never had to worry about him. I also saw other players watching how he conducted himself and gravitating to him. That's why he is a great football coach — people see how much the game means to him, how hard he works."

When Majors departed following the undefeated '76 national title season, Wannstedt served under Jackie Sherrill at Pitt in 1977 and 1978, coaching receivers and special teams.

His four years on the Panthers' staff witnessed three Top 15 national rankings, a combined 37-10-1 record (.781) and bowl invites each season. "You knew he had the talent to be a coach," Sherrill said. "Just the way he handled himself, the confidence he had, the way he handled other players."

The talent evident at Pitt launched Wannstedt into a coaching career that took him from his hometown to destinations all over the country, including a pair of NFL head coaching jobs.

During Wannstedt's head coaching tenure with the Dolphins, Miami was one of just three NFL teams from 2000-03 to record nine or more victories each year.

The Dolphins' 41-23 mark during that span tied for the club's best four-year record in nearly 20 seasons. Miami captured the AFC East Division championship in 2000 with an 11-5 record.

The Dolphins' defense that season ranked third in the NFL in points allowed (a franchise-low 226 points) and led the league with 28 interceptions. He joined the Dolphins in 1999 as assistant head coach under Jimmy Johnson.

Johnson, now an NFL analyst with FOX, and Wannstedt first teamed up together at Pitt. (Johnson was the assistant head coach and defensive coordinator under Sherrill before moving on as head coach at Oklahoma State.) The pair became fast friends at Pittsburgh and Johnson ultimately would tap Wannstedt as a top lieutenant at four stops, including Oklahoma State, the University of Miami, the Dallas Cowboys and with the Dolphins.

Wannstedt concluded his Chicago Bears tenure as the third-winningest coach in the franchise's history with 41 victories. In 1994, he was named the NFC Coach of the Year by UPI and Football News after directing Chicago back to the playoffs following a three-year hiatus. Wannstedt additionally was among the top three finishers for NFL Coach of the Year honors that season by The Associated Press, Pro Football Writers, The Sporting News, Pro Football Weekly and Football Digest. The Bears were the NFL's least-penalized team for two consecutive seasons (1994-95) under his watch.

From 1989-92, Wannstedt was part of a dramatic revitalization of the Dallas Cowboys as defensive coordinator and, in his final season, assistant head coach. His tenure witnessed Dallas' transformation from a 1-15 team to Super Bowl champions in just three years. Wannstedt's 1992 defense was the NFL's youngest but went on to lead the league in total defense, allowing just 245.7 yards per game. The '92 season was punctuated with the Cowboys' 52-17 demolition of Buffalo in Super Bowl XXVII as his defense forced nine turnovers. In 1990, Wannstedt's role in Dallas' revival earned him NFL Assistant Coach of the Year honors.

Prior to Dallas, Wannstedt spent three years as the defensive coordinator of the Miami Hurricanes. From 1986-88, Miami went 34-2 (.944) and won the 1987 national championship with a 12-0 record. During his tenure, the Hurricanes held opponents to just 2.2 yards per rush, gave up only 10.9 points per game and averaged 48 sacks per year. Wannstedt's defenses produced 11 NFL draft selections, including five taken in the initial two rounds.

Wannstedt's other collegiate stops included Southern California (1983-85) and Oklahoma State (1979-82). As defensive line coach at USC, he helped the Trojans capture the 1984 Pacific-10 championship and a subsequent 20-17 win over Ohio State in the Rose Bowl. Wannstedt was also the defensive line coach at Oklahoma State his initial three years before elevating to defensive coordinator in 1982.

Wannstedt is a 1974 graduate of the University of Pittsburgh. He also earned his master's from Pitt in 1976. The Pitt Varsity Letter Club in 1999 named him an Awardee of Distinction for his professional and personal accomplishments following his graduation from the university. In 1990, Wannstedt was inducted into the Western Pennsylvania Sports Hall of Fame, becoming the youngest person to receive the honor.

Wannstedt and his wife Jan have two daughters, Keri and Jami, and a grandson. Keri and her husband Mike Drew welcomed a son, Connor David, on Sept. 28, 2007.

THE WORD ON WANNSTEDT

"Coach Wannstedt is a tremendous person. I benefited so much from his experience and teachings. He's coached a lot of cornerbacks who have been Pro Bowl guys. One of the things he did with me when he came in was put me in their schemes. We always talked about what those Pro Bowl corners were doing that I could put into my game. It helped me get to where I am today."

— Darrelle Revis, New York Jets 2007 First-Round Draft Pick, 2008 Pro Bowler and Two-Time All-Big East Cornerback

"Coach Wannstedt's system prepares you for the NFL. More importantly, he is just a great person. I think he is one of the best coaches in America. He is a great guy and I just love him to death."

— LeSean McCoy, Two-Time First-Team All-Big East Selection and 2009 Philadelphia Eagles Draft Pick

"Dave Wannstedt is the right guy for the right job at absolutely the right time. Pitt is on the cusp of becoming a perennial Top 10 team. All the needed state-of-the-art facilities are in place and Dave is the element that will take the program to another level. Dave is one of us. He doesn't need to be sold on Pitt. He's coached in college. He's coached in the pros. He's won championships on both levels. And he's from Western Pennsylvania! What more could you want?"

— Mark May, ESPN College Football Analyst and 1980 Pitt Outland Trophy Winner and All-American

"I've known Dave Wannstedt for nearly 30 years. We've coached all over the country together. We've won Super Bowls and national championships together. I can tell you this — Dave knows what it takes to win and he knows what it takes to win at Pitt. His passion and coaching abilities will make big things happen there."

— Jimmy Johnson, FOX Analyst and Former NFL and College Head Coach

"Dave is a Pitt guy. Dave has a commitment to this university. The excitement created since Dave came back probably hasn't happened in, what, 20 years? Dave is the right guy to lead this program. He's a young guy with a lot of enthusiasm and he's really proud to be a Pittsburgh guy."

— Mike Ditka, Pro and College Football Hall of Famer and 1960 Pitt All-American

"Known as a relentless recruiter in the '80s at Pitt, Oklahoma State, USC and Miami, Wannstedt has picked up right where he left off."

— Stewart Mandel, Sports Illustrated Senior Writer

"Pittsburgh has the right guy. There might be no other coach in the country who knows the very soil beneath him better than 'Wanny.' Wannstedt's blood and sweat literally stain the grass at his alma mater."

— CBS Sportsline.com Senior Writer Dennis Dodd

"His Pittsburgh background is very important in that part of the world. In some places, it doesn't matter where you're from, but there it does. People there have a religious devotion to football, and it's important to have (someone) with a high pedigree. Dave has it. I think it is a heck of a match, Pitt and Dave Wannstedt."

— Georgia State Coach and Former ESPN Analyst Bill Curry

"I knew he had big things ahead of him. You could see it and sense it. He was self-motivated and tough. He was fierce, and everyone around him respected him. He did things the right way, with hard work and dedication. I never had to worry about him. I also saw other players watching how he conducted himself and gravitating to him. That's why he is a great football coach — people see how much the game means to him, how hard he works."

— Former Pitt Head Coach John Majors

"Dave understands Pittsburgh and he understands the players you have to recruit. He's going to have a great deal of influence bringing a lot of those types of players back in the program. The confidence, his work ethic and being from Pittsburgh, that gives him all the tools to be successful."

— Former Pitt Head Coach Jackie Sherrill

year marks Gattuso's fifth season overall at Pitt and his fourth coaching the defensive line.

Gattuso initially joined the Pitt staff as tight ends coach and recruiting coordinator. In his first season, he helped the Panthers sign a recruiting class rated the nation's 10th best by Scout.com.

A Western Pennsylvania native, Gattuso owns a winning resume as a coach and player on both the collegiate and high school levels. Before joining Pitt, Gattuso spent 12 years building neighboring Duquesne University into one of the elite I-AA football programs in the country. The winningest coach in school history, the Dukes went 97-32 (.752) under his direction, won eight Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference (MAAC) titles, made five bowl appearances and captured the 2003 consensus Mid-Major Division I-AA national championship.

Gattuso was twice named the national Mid-Major I-AA Coach of the Year and was a seven-time MAAC Coach of the Year. The Dukes dominated the MAAC during his tenure, going 66-7 (.904) in league play, including a 33-game winning streak.

Gattuso was an assistant coach at Duquesne in 1992 before taking over the head coaching post the following year. He previously served as head coach at his high school alma mater, Seton-LaSalle, from 1989-91. Taking over a team that went 6-34 during the four seasons prior to his arrival, Gattuso led the Rebels to a 28-10-1 mark (.731), including three WPIAL playoff berths, a WPIAL championship and Parkway Conference title.

A 1980 graduate of Seton-LaSalle High, Gattuso was named the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette's Class AA Player of the Year his senior season and went on to a standout career at Penn State, where he was a two-time All-East defensive lineman and a member of the Lions' 1982 national title team.

Gattuso is a 1983 graduate of Penn State with a bachelor's degree in administration and criminal justice.

Under the guidance of GREG GATTUSO, Pitt's defensive line has emerged as one of the team's major strengths.

Heading into the 2009 season, the Panthers boast one of the finest defensive end tandems in the country with the return of All-Big East performer Greg Romeus and Jabaal Sheard. The pair combined for 26 tackles for loss and 13 sacks last year. Romeus was honored as the Sun Bowl's Most Valuable Lineman.

Named to Dave Wannstedt's original staff in 2005, Gattuso has made invaluable contributions to the Pitt football program on and off the field. As a result, he was promoted to assistant head coach in 2008. This and Indiana University of Pa. (1986-2005). His brother Curt was also a Pitt assistant (1983-84 and 1993-99) who is now at Alabama.

Prior to his 49ers post, Cignetti was the offensive coordinator at North Carolina (2006) and Fresno State (2002-05). In 2004 Fresno State averaged 52.8 points over its final six games and became just the sixth team in NCAA history to score 50 or more points in four consecutive contests.

The Bulldogs twice finished among the nation's top 10 in scoring and third-down conversions during Cignetti's tenure. They were also a perennial postseason team, advancing to four consecutive bowls, including victories over Georgia Tech (2002, Silicon Valley), UCLA (2003, Silicon Valley) and Virginia (2004, MPC Computers).

From 2000-01, Cignetti served as quarterbacks coach with the New Orleans Saints, where he helped Jeff Blake to a career-best passer rating and also helped Aaron Brooks produce some of the best statistics of his career en route to a Pro Bowl alternate selection. Cignetti landed his first NFL appointment in 1999 as a quality control assistant with the Kansas City Chiefs.

From 1990-98, Cignetti was on his father's staff at IUP, where he was an all-conference safety before earning his bachelor's degree in 1988. He served IUP as receivers, secondary and quarterbacks coach

Pittsburgh native FRANK CIGNETTI, whose coaching resume includes two decades of experience on both the collegiate and NFL levels, was named offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at the University of Pittsburgh in February by Dave Wannstedt.

Cignetti joins Wannstedt's staff after spending the 2008 season as the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at the University of California. The Bears averaged nearly 33 points per game en route to a 9-4 record and victory over Miami (Fla.) in the Emerald Bowl. In 2007 Cignetti was the San Francisco 49ers' quarterbacks coach.

His Pitt appointment marks a return to the place where he landed his first coaching position as a Panthers graduate assistant in 1989.

Cignetti's family has deep ties to Pitt and Western Pennsylvania football. His father, Frank Sr., was a Pitt assistant from 1966-68 and later the head coach at both West Virginia (1976-79) before elevating to offensive coordinator for his final two seasons. During his tenure, IUP twice advanced to the NCAA Division II national title game and earned a berth in the semifinals four times.

Cignetti additionally has served on the coaching staffs for the Senior Bowl and East-West Shrine all-star games.

Pitt was playing some of its finest defense during its drive to the postseason. Over the final five games of the year, the Panthers yielded just 12.6 points per game.

Two members of Bennett's defense signed NFL contracts this spring, including the All-America McKillop, drafted by San Francisco, and tackle Rashaad Duncan, who signed with Tampa Bay.

Bennett joined the Panthers after serving as head coach at Southern Methodist University from 2002-07. Prior to SMU, he oversaw some of the country's top defensive units while at such schools as Texas A&M, Kansas State and Louisiana State.

While rebuilding the program at SMU, Bennett improved the Mustangs' win total for three consecutive seasons, including his 2006 team that reached bowl eligibility and achieved the program's highest victory total in a decade. That squad also received the American Football Coaches Association's (AFCA) 2006 Academic Achievement Award after SMU earned a 100% graduation rate for its freshman class of 2000-01.

Prior to SMU, Bennett was the defensive coordinator and secondary coach at Kansas State for three years (1999-2001). During his tenure, the Wildcats finished among the nation's top five in total defense each season, including second in 1999 (235.0 yards/game), fourth in 2000 (270.54) and third in 2001 (262.36).

Bennett's secondary units were equally impressive, finishing in the top 10 in pass efficiency defense each year. The 1999 Wildcats led the entire country in pass efficiency defense with an impressive 65.7 rating. They also topped the nation in turnover margin (1.55 margin/game), collecting 21 interceptions and 17 fumbles. Two of his standouts in the secondary, Dyshod Carter and Jerametrious Butler, became just the second pair of KSU teammates to record 10 or more career interceptions. Both went on to play in the NFL.

In 1998, Bennett served as secondary coach and co-recruiting coordinator at Oklahoma as he helped the Sooners finish sixth nationally in total defense. In 1997, he was the defensive coordinator at Texas Christian and helped the Horned Frogs earn their highest defensive rankings in five years.

Bennett was the defensive coordinator at Texas A&M from 1995-96. American Football Quarterly named him its 1995 "Defensive Coordinator of the Year" after the Aggies ranked in the nation's top 10 in every major defensive category, including total defense (third), scoring defense (third) and pass efficiency defense (second).

From 1991-94, Bennett served at LSU, including his final three seasons as assistant head coach. In 1994 he was the Tigers' defensive coordinator. That season, LSU led the Southeastern Conference in every major defensive category and finished eighth nationally in total defense. Bennett's positional focus was the outside linebackers his first three seasons and the secondary his final year in Baton Rouge.

Prior to LSU, Bennett held defensive coordinator posts at Purdue (1987-90) and Iowa State (1983-86). In 1982 he coached TCU's tight ends and tackles. Bennett began his coaching career at Texas A&M as a part-time defensive ends coach from 1979-80 before assuming a full-time position in 1981.

Bennett is a 1978 graduate of Texas A&M with a B.S. in education. He was an All-Southwest Conference defensive end for the Aggies, helping them earn invitations to the Sun, Bluebonnet and Liberty bowls during his career.

Nationally known as one of college football's finest defensive coaches, PHIL BENNETT enters his second season at Pitt.

The three-decade coaching veteran came to Pittsburgh last year and put his own imprint on the Panthers' defense. Behind the play of such all-star performers as linebacker Scott McKillop, end Greg Romeus and cornerback Aaron Berry, Pitt ranked among the country's top 30 in both total and rushing defense. Moreover, Pitt intercepted 16 passes during the 2008 season, the second-highest total for the Panthers since 1996.

BRIAN ANGELICHIO

TIGHT ENDS

BRIAN ANGELICHIO enters his fourth year on Pitt's coaching staff working with the tight ends, a positional group that has become an annual strength for the Panthers.

Last year under Angelichio's watch, Nate Byham was selected first team All-Big East, an unprecedented achievement by a Pitt tight end. Whether it is in the pass or run games, Byham is one of the country's best all-around performers at the position. He enters his senior year as a viable All-America and John Mackey Award candidate.

Angelichio also oversaw the development of former Pitt tight end Darrell Strong, who enters his second year with the Oakland Raiders. Strong was invited to the 2008 Hula Bowl, the first Pitt tight end to play in that historic all-star game since 1981.

Angelichio joined Pitt as a well-rounded football coach following his 10-year tenure at Ithaca College (1996-2005). Named Ithaca's offensive coordinator in 2000, Angelichio molded a highly productive unit that set or tied 30 team and individual records over his final five seasons. The Bombers averaged nearly 40 points per game in 2005 to rank 18th nationally on the NCAA Division III level.

Angelichio oversaw the development of seven All-Americans at Ithaca, which advanced to the postseason in seven of his 10 years. His offenses averaged more than 30 points per game in six of his final eight seasons. Before elevating to his offensive coordinator post, Angelichio coached Ithaca's linebackers (1996-97) and receivers (1998). He oversaw the offensive line from 1999-2005.

In addition to football, Angelichio was a member of Ithaca's baseball staff for nine years, helping the Bombers to the NCAA playoffs each season.

A 1995 graduate of St. Lawrence with a bachelor's in physical education, Angelichio was a member of the Saints' football and baseball teams. He was a three-year starter at outside linebacker and also was a captain and four-year starter on the baseball team. Angelichio spent a season as secondary coach at Brockport (1995) before coming to Ithaca. He earned his master's from Ithaca in 1997.

BRYAN BOSSARD enters his second year at Pitt as wide receivers coach. Bossard joined the Panthers after serving in the same capacity at Maryland from 2005-07. He previously worked under Dave Wannstedt in a pair of NFL summer coaching internships with the Chicago Bears in 1996-97.

Two receivers Bossard coached were selected in this year's NFL Draft. Pitt's Derek Kinder was drafted by the Chicago Bears after finishing his career ranking among the school's all-time leaders in receptions and receiving yardage. Additionally, Darrius Heyward-Bey, who Bossard coached at Maryland, was a first-round pick of the Oakland Raiders.

Heyward-Bey was a Freshman All-American under Bossard's watch in 2006. A season later Bossard also helped Terps wideout LaQuan Williams earn Freshman All-America accolades.

Prior to his Maryland tenure, Bossard coached the receivers at perennial I-AA power Delaware, his alma mater, from 2002-04. He also was on the Blue Hens' coaching staff from 1994-98 in the same capacity.

Bossard helped Delaware win the 2003 Division I-AA national title with a 15-1 mark. During that championship season, the Blue Hens had three different receivers catch 50 passes or more, an unprecedented achievement at UD. Delaware made three consecutive playoff berths from 1995-97, advancing to the national semifinals each year.

A native of Dover, Del., Bossard was an outstanding player himself for the Blue Hens from 1985-88. An All-Yankee Conference defensive back, he helped Delaware to two I-AA playoff berths. In his final collegiate season he collected 122 tackles and was selected the team's outstanding senior defensive player by the Blue Hen Touchdown Club.

Bossard broke into the collegiate coaching ranks as a graduate assistant at Delaware in 1990. He then coached defensive backs at Morehouse College (1991), West Chester University (1992) and Bucknell (1992-93).

In 1999, Bossard coached the receivers at Army before moving on to a defensive back coaching post at Wyoming during the 2000 and '01 seasons.

He is a 1989 graduate of Delaware with a bachelor's degree in agricultural business management.

JEFF HAFLEY

SECONDARY

JEFF HAFLEY enters his second year as Pitt's secondary coach and fourth season overall on Dave Wannstedt's staff.

One of the Big East's up-and-coming young coaches, Hafley previously served as Pitt's defensive graduate assistant in 2006 and '07 with a specific focus on the cornerbacks. He was promoted to his current capacity during the 2008 offseason and delivered with a strong year on both the playing field and recruiting trail.

Pitt intercepted 16 passes during the 2008 season, its second-highest total since 1996. Strong safety Dom DeCicco had a team-high four picks while All-Big East cornerback Aaron Berry had three. Both players enter the upcoming season as strong all-star candidates.

Hafley was also instrumental in Pitt's 2009 recruiting class, helping the Panthers sign five highly regarded prospects from New Jersey — Pitt's most signees from the Garden State since the mid-1980s.

Prior to Pitt, Hafley served at the University of Albany for four seasons (2002-05), including his final two as defensive backs coach and recruiting coordinator. In his initial two years Hafley was a graduate assistant who coached Albany's defensive tackles and outside linebackers.

While at Albany, Hafley oversaw the development of cornerback/roverback Kurt Campbell, who went on to become the first player in school history to be selected in the NFL Draft. Campbell was drafted by the Green Bay Packers in 2005 before going on to play with the Tennessee Titans.

Hafley served as the running backs coach at Worcester Polytechnic Institute during the 2001 season. In addition to overseeing the running backs, he also worked significantly with WPI's special teams and coached the kickers.

Hafley was a four-year wide receiver at Siena College from 1997-2000. He began his coaching career at his alma mater while recovering from three separate surgeries that kept him off the field. Hafley is a 2001 cum laude graduate of Siena with a bachelor's degree in history. He earned his master's from Albany in 2003.

teams performer to starting Will linebacker and finished as the team's second-leading tackler (89 stops). Additionally, Sam linebacker Greg Williams was named the Big East's Top Defensive Freshman by Rivals.com.

Tumpkin joined the Panthers after spending three seasons (2005-07) coaching linebackers at Southern Methodist University, where he served under then-SMU head coach Phil Bennett, now Pitt's defensive coordinator.

While at SMU, Tumpkin oversaw the development of All-Conference USA linebacker Reggie Carrington. During the 2006 season, SMU earned bowl eligibility behind a defense that ranked 24th nationally against the run (107.5 yards/game).

In 2007, Tumpkin earned a coaching fellowship with the NFL's Tampa Bay Buccaneers. As part of the fellowship, he worked with Tampa Bay's coaching staff during the team's July training camp.

From 2002-04, Tumpkin served at Sam Houston State, where he coached the linebackers (2002-03) and secondary (2004). He was instrumental in the development of Sam Houston State linebackers T.J. Dibble, a two-time All-Southland selection, and Paul Donelson, who earned All-America honors. In 2004, the Bearkats captured a share of the Southland Conference championship, advanced to the NCAA Division I-AA playoffs and reached as high as No. 3 in the national rankings.

Tumpkin was the defensive coordinator at Lakeland College during the 2000 and '01 seasons. From 1998-99, he was the linebackers coach and recruiting coordinator at Southern Illinois, where he helped mold Bart Scott, who went on to be a Pro Bowl performer for the Baltimore Ravens. (Scott was signed by the New York Jets as a coveted free agent this past offseason.) In 1996 Tumpkin coached the linebackers at Defiance College.

Tumpkin's additional experience includes graduate assistantships at Lakeland (1994), Northern Michigan (1995) and Western Michigan (1997).

As a collegian, Tumpkin was a team captain and four-year letterman at Michigan Tech. He earned his bachelor's degree from Michigan Tech in 1994.

JOE TUMPKIN oversaw an aggressive and productive group of linebackers in 2008, his first season at Pitt.

Middle linebacker Scott McKillop was selected a first team All-American and the Big East Defensive Player of the Year. McKillop was one of the country's most prolific tacklers, ranking third nationally in solo stops (6.31 solos/game), 10th in total tackles (tied, 10.54 tackles/game) and 22nd in tackles for loss (tied, 1.35 TFLs/game).

McKillop was selected by the San Francisco 49ers in the 2009 NFL Draft and was instantly lauded by 49ers staff for his knowledge and toughness.

A pair of first-year starters also thrived under Tumpkin's tutelage.

DAVID WALKER

RUNNING BACKS

DAVID WALKER enters his fifth season as running backs coach at Pitt and has been instrumental in helping the Panthers develop a potent, game-changing rushing attack.

Walker has been lauded as an outstanding teacher of the finer points of running back play. As a result, the Panthers have enjoyed some of their finest production at the position in recent memory and had two backs taken in the 2009 NFL Draft.

LeSean McCoy, selected by the Philadelphia Eagles, was a major beneficiary of Walker's influence. In just two collegiate seasons, McCoy rushed for 2,816 yards and scored 36 touchdowns, both Pitt records for production as a freshman and sophomore.

A unanimous All-Big East selection and the media's Big East Offensive Player of the Year, McCoy last season ranked second in the nation in scoring (tied, 9.69 points/game) and 10th in rushing (114.46 yards/game). He finished with 1,488 yards to become only the third Pitt running back to achieve multiple 1,000-yard rushing seasons.

Additionally, LaRod Stephens-Howling was a four-year letterman at tailback for Pitt and was drafted by the Arizona Cardinals. Stephens-Howling compiled more than 3,100 all-purpose yards as a Panther.

Before joining Pitt, Walker tutored four 1,000-yard rushers in his last five years as running backs coach at Syracuse. He served with the Orange from 1995-2004 and shaped an exceptional record of producing top-flight running backs. He counts among his SU protégés, six backs who played in the National Football League.

The Orange boasted a potent 1-2 punch in the backfield in 2004 with All-Big East running backs Walter Reyes and Damien Rhodes combining for 1,673 yards and 17 touchdowns. Reyes finished his career as SU's second all-time leading rusher with 3,424 yards.

Walker oversaw four consecutive 1,000-yard rushers from 2000-03, a Syracuse record. In '03, Reyes rushed for 1,347 yards, the second-highest single-season total in school history. His 21 touchdowns set an Orange record. Overall, Walker coached three of the Orange's top seven all-time leading rushers.

A 1993 graduate of Syracuse, Walker was an outstanding running back himself, twice earning All-Big East honors. He captained the 1992 team, leading it to a No. 6 national ranking, 10-2 overall record and 26-22 victory over Colorado in the Fiesta Bowl. Walker remains the sixth-leading rusher in Orange history with 2,643 yards.

Following a year as an assistant coach at Miami's Carol City High School in 1994-95, Walker rejoined his alma mater and helped the Orange to four Big East championships. Including his playing career, he has been part of 13 bowl games.

Walker earned his bachelor's degree in physical education in 1993.

TONY WISE, an accomplished 36-year coaching veteran of collegiate and professional football, enters his second season as Pitt's offensive line coach.

Under Wise's guidance, the Pitt offensive line is a source of exciting optimism and potential in 2009. Last year's unit paved the way for the nation's 10th-leading rusher in LeSean McCoy (1,488 yards and 21 touchdowns). Offensive guard C.J. Davis was selected first team All-Big East and signed an NFL contract with the Carolina Panthers.

Wise's Pitt appointment reunited him with Dave Wannstedt, who he coached with on six prior occasions, and returned him to a place where he received one of his first college coaching positions.

Wannstedt and Wise first worked together on Jackie Sherrill's Pitt coaching staff during the 1977 and '78 seasons. Wannstedt coached receivers and special teams under Sherrill, while Wise was the Panthers' assistant offensive line coach. They would go on to serve on the same staffs with Oklahoma State, the University of Miami, the Dallas Cowboys and during Wannstedt's head coaching tenures with the Chicago Bears and Miami Dolphins.

Prior to his 2008 return to Pitt, Wise spent 18 years coaching offensive lines in the National Football League, including the 2006 and '07 seasons with the New York Jets. From 2001-04, he spent four seasons at Miami, where his offensive lines helped produce the two highest individual single-season rushing totals in franchise history. During the 2002 season, the Dolphins rushed for 156.4 yards per game to rank first in the AFC and second in the NFL.

From 1999-2000, Wise served with the Carolina Panthers. During the '99 season, Carolina averaged 4.3 yards per rush to rank fifth in the NFL. Wise served on Wannstedt's Chicago staff from 1993-98. In four of those six seasons, the Bears ranked in the top 10 of the NFL in fewest sacks allowed, including a league-low 15 in 1995. Wise added the duties of assistant head coach his final four seasons in Chicago.

Wise's NFL career began in 1989 with the Dallas Cowboys, where he coached the offensive line for four seasons (1989-92) under Jimmy Johnson. Wise's line paved the way for Emmitt Smith, who claimed back-to-back NFL rushing titles in 1991 and 1992. Smith rushed for 1,563 yards during the '91 campaign and 1,713 during the Cowboys' Super Bowl championship season in '92.

Dallas rolled past Buffalo, 52-17, in Super Bowl XXVII, the Cowboys' first NFL title in 15 years. Wise's offensive front was vital to the championship run, allowing the second-fewest sacks in the NFL (23). He coached a pair of 1992 Pro Bowlers in center Mark Stepnoski, a former Pitt standout, and guard Nate Newton.

Wise also served under Johnson while with the Miami Hurricanes from 1985-88. His UM tenure witnessed the Hurricanes' emergence as a national power. Miami went 34-2 during Wise's final three seasons there, including a 12-0 mark in winning the 1987 national championship.

A native of Newtonville, N.Y., Wise was an offensive lineman at Ithaca College from 1969-72. He also lettered in lacrosse at Ithaca and played on the school's hockey team. Wise began his coaching career in 1973 at Albany State, where he worked with the outside linebackers. He later coached the offensive lines at Bridgeport (1974), Central Connecticut (1975) and on Jackie Sherrill's staff at Washington State (in 1976 as assistant offensive line coach). Wise's additional collegiate stops include Oklahoma State (under Jimmy Johnson from 1979-83) and Syracuse (1984).

BUDDY MORRIS

STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING

During Pitt's 2008 Sun Bowl campaign, the Panthers won five contests in the fourth quarter or overtime. Players and coaches alike readily credited BUDDY MORRIS' strength and conditioning program as a vital reason behind those victories.

Game-changing strength and conditioning levels are what Dave Wannstedt envisioned two years ago when he lured Morris back to Pitt to oversee the Panthers' physical development. His arrival infused the Pitt weight room with a new sense of purpose and dedication, resulting in elevated performance on the field.

Pitt's weight room, dubbed the "Pitt Iron Works" by Morris, was recently honored by Muscle & Fitness magazine as one of the "top 10 toughest gyms in the United States." Pitt Iron Works "is home to a college strength and conditioning program unlike any other," writes Muscle & Fitness. "Nobody does it like Pitt," says Elite Fitness Systems owner Dave Tate. "I deal with just about every program in the country, and what they're doing there is unique. From what I've seen, Iron Works is the primary reason for Pitt's turnaround, and the work they're doing will keep them among college football's best for years to come."

Morris owns an accomplished history of training elite players at both the collegiate and NFL levels. The 1980 Pitt graduate previously served as the football team's strength and conditioning coach from 1980-89 and 1997-2001.

"Buddy Morris has trained some of the greatest names in college and professional football," Wannstedt said. "He knows what it takes to make a football player — and a football team — reach his highest potential in strength training and physical conditioning."

His workout regimens are highly regarded and include a focus on strength training, speed development, conditioning, agility training and flexibility. Morris' take on football strength and conditioning was featured in a February 2009 issue of Sporting News.

Morris rejoined Pitt after serving at the University of Buffalo in 2006 as its director of sports performance and was directly responsible for training the Bulls' football team. Prior to Buffalo, he was the head strength and conditioning coach for the Cleveland Browns from 2002-05, serving under head coach Butch Davis.

In his prior Pitt training stints, Morris' pupils included such legendary figures as Jim Covert, Bill Fralic, Russ Grimm, Dan Marino and Mark Stepnoski among others. He additionally trained latter-day Pitt stars Ruben Brown and Curtis Martin, two of the NFL's most accomplished players over the past decade.

A former Pitt student-athlete himself, Morris was a four-year letterman in track and field for the Panthers from 1977-80.

LaSala was a chief coordinator and planner for Pitt's move to its state-of-the-art practice facility, the UPMC Sports Performance Complex. He has been instrumental in the planning of Pitt's trips to the 2005 Tostitos Fiesta Bowl, 2003 Continental Tire Bowl, 2002 Insight Bowl, 2001 Visit Florida Tangerine Bowl, 2000 Insight.com Bowl and 1997 AXA/Equitable Liberty Bowl.

LaSala's career in athletics began at Temple, where he served as a graduate assistant. He then came to the University of Pittsburgh as an athletic department intern in 1989.

Prior to his 1997 Pitt appointment he served three years as the director of football operations at Boston College (1994-96), where he handled all the administrative duties for the football program, including overseeing the travel arrangements and organizing BC's youth camps.

During his BC tenure, the Eagles captured the 1994 Aloha Bowl and participated in the 1995 Kickoff Classic.

Before Boston College, LaSala spent four years at Temple (1990-93) as recruiting coordinator and ultimately was elevated to assistant athletic director. He initially joined Temple as a graduate assistant in 1988 and then returned to the Owls' football staff in 1990 as the administrative assistant.

LaSala graduated from West Virginia in 1988 with a bachelor's degree in accounting. He earned his master's degree in sports administration from Temple in 1991.

After spending nearly four decades in the coaching ranks, BOB JUNKO moved to the administrative side of college football in 2007 as Pitt's director of football relations and program enhancement.

Junko is a natural for the role given his tremendous football acumen and contacts. Now in his third year in that capacity, he assists in the daily operations of the program and also has a focus on the Panthers' extended family of football alumni.

One of the best-known football figures in the tri-state area, Junko has been a highly valuable figure within the Pitt program. He played a major role in the Panthers' recent recruiting successes and in 2006 was named one of the nation's top 25 recruiters by Rivals.com.

The 2009 season marks the 13th year of Junko's second tour at Pittsburgh. He initially coached at Pitt from 1982-85, serving as defensive coordinator under head coach Foge Fazio. He returned in 1997 as defensive tackles coach under Walt Harris and was elevated to assistant head coach in 2000.

Prior to returning to Pittsburgh, Junko was the defensive coordinator at Kent State from 1995-96. Junko also served as the associate head coach and defensive coordinator for seven years at Akron (1988-94). He additionally held similar positions at Northwestern, TCU and Tulsa, his alma mater.

In his first stint with the Panthers, the 1982 team received a Cotton Bowl bid and finished ninth in the country. The 1983 Panthers earned a Fiesta Bowl berth and ranked 19th in the final polls.

Among the standouts on those defenses were tackle Bill Maas, defensive end Chris Doleman and defensive backs Tim Lewis and Tom Flynn, all of whom went on to careers in the NFL.

As a collegian, Junko starred at Tulsa as an inside linebacker and was an Honorable Mention All-American in 1967. He also was named to the All-Missouri Valley Conference team twice and served as team captain.

Junko earned a bachelor's degree in history education in 1968 and his master's in educational administration in 1970 at Tulsa. He was inducted into the University of Tulsa Sports Hall of Fame in 2007.

MIKE ANTONOPLOS

ASSISTANT DIRECTOR OF FOOTBALL OPERATIONS

Mike Antonoplos is in his sixth season with Pitt's football staff and plays a highly valuable role in the daily operations of the program.

Whether it is assisting with away game travel or the hosting of prospects, Antonoplos has been an instrumental figure for the Panthers. In his role of assistant director of operations, he works alongside assistant athletic director Chris LaSala to make sure all the logistics for the Panthers go smoothly.

Antonoplos provides vital support and planning for Pitt's official recruiting visits. Moreover, he was influential in creating a productive partnership between the football program and Pitt Pathfinders, a group of university undergraduates that provides tours and information for prospective students. Antonoplos additionally represents Pitt football while working with various campus organizations.

His vital behind-the-scenes efforts helped Pitt land the Big East's top recruiting class in three of the last four years. The Panthers' classes ranked in the top 25 each of those three years, including top 10 rankings in 2006 and 2007.

Antonoplos joined the Panthers in 2004 after working the previous four years with Pittsburgh's professional sports franchises. From 2002-03, he worked inside sales for the Pittsburgh Pirates, specializing in season and group tickets.

In 2001, Antonoplos worked with the Pittsburgh Steelers' fan relations department and assisted with the team's annual training camp in Latrobe, Pa. He additionally interned with the Pittsburgh Penguins, assisting in customer relations, ticketing, marketing and promotions.

Antonoplos is a 2001 graduate of the University of Pittsburgh with a bachelor's in communications.

SCOTT TURNER

OFFENSIVE ASSISTANT

Scott Turner, a former quarterback at UNLV, enters his second year as an assistant with the Pitt football program. Turner works with the Panthers' offensive staff.

Turner joined Pitt after working on the prep level from 2006-07 at South County Secondary School in Virginia. As South County's offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach, he helped the program to its first-ever playoff berth and also orchestrated an offense that produced two 1,000-yard rushers in the same season.

In 2005, Turner was an administrative graduate assistant at Oregon State under Mike Riley. His responsibilities included assisting in all aspects of the Beavers' program with a special focus on the offense's weekly preparation.

Turner was a three-year letterman for the Rebels. He earned his bachelor's degree in psychology from UNLV in 2005.

Scott is the son of Norv Turner, the current head coach of the San Diego Chargers. Norv and Dave Wannstedt served together on Jimmy Johnson's Dallas Cowboys staffs of the early 1990s. Norv additionally was offensive coordinator with the Dolphins in 2002 and 2003 during Wannstedt's head coaching tenure in Miami.

ROD RUTHERFORD

DEFENSIVE ASSISTANT

Rod Rutherford, a two-time All-Big East quarterback during his accomplished Pitt career from 1999-2003, returned to his alma mater this past spring as a defensive assistant.

Rutherford, who spent last year as secondary coach at nearby St. Vincent College, will have a positional focus with the linebackers.

Rutherford finished his collegiate career as one of the most prolific signal-callers in Pitt and Big East history. As a senior he was a unanimous first-team All-Big East selection after setting five conference records.

He additionally set or tied seven Pitt marks, matching a pair of longstanding records established by the legendary Dan Marino, including single-season touchdown passes (37) and consecutive games with a TD pass (19).

Rutherford finished his all-star senior year ranked among the country's top 10 in three different statistical categories, including points responsible for (tied for fourth, 18.0 pts./game), passing efficiency (157.4 rating, eighth) and total offense (294.5 avg., 10th).

Following his 2004 graduation from Pitt, Rutherford went on to play two seasons in the NFL. He spent the '04 season with the Carolina Panthers before joining the Pittsburgh Steelers for their '05 Super Bowl championship campaign. In 2007, Rutherford played for the Hamburg SeaDevils of NFL Europe.

Rutherford owns his bachelor's degree in social sciences. A Pittsburgh native, he graduated in 1999 from Perry Traditional Academy, where he was a standout performer for the Commodores in football, basketball and track.

DEMETREUS H. DARDEN

FOOTBALL ACADEMIC COUNSELOR

Demetreus Darden enters his fourth year as an academic counselor with the Pitt football program, and is in his eighth year working with students at the collegiate level.

Darden, a native of Farrell, Pa., joined the University of Pittsburgh in December 2005. His primary responsibilities at Pitt are monitoring academic development, course scheduling and degree completion of junior and senior football players.

In addition to his responsibilities with football, Darden serves as the academic coordinator for the men's and women's cross country and track and field teams.

Prior to his time at Pitt, Darden worked at neighboring Carnegie Mellon University as a program associate, working in support services for minority students.

Darden graduated from Kent State in 2002 with a bachelor's degree in history. Shortly after graduation he began his career in higher education as a student-activities coordinator at Kent State University's Trumbull Campus.

He also serves as the academic coordinator for women's tennis and gymnastics and is the Disability Resource Services liaison and the Continuing Eligibility Certification representative. Dudek was familiar with the football program prior to joining the academic staff as he spent two years as a video graduate assistant for the Panthers.

In 2008, Dudek earned his Instruction and Learning Master's of Education, graduating summa cum laude. He earned his Pennsylvania Instructional Certification in Secondary Social Studies Education in 2007 and currently works as a mentor to inner-city youth.

Dudek earned a degree in psychology with related area in linguistics from Pitt in 2003, graduating with cum laude honors. Following graduation, he worked at Maxim Crane Works as the assistant to the CEO/general manager and went on to become the youngest general manager in company history.

Dudek is married to the former Lindsay Campbell, who earned her Doctorate of Pharmacy in 2006 from the Pitt School of Pharmacy. The couple resides in Penn Township with their daughter Abigail.

JEN TUSCANO

FOOTBALL ACADEMIC COUNSELOR

Jen Tuscano, in her sixth year as an academic coordinator at Pitt, begins her first season with the football team.

Tuscano will work primarily with the freshman class and also continue her duties as academic coordinator for the Pitt women's basketball program and the men's soccer team. In addition to her responsibilities on the academic side, Tuscano lends her knowledge and insight to the women's basketball radio broadcasts.

In her first year at Pitt, Tuscano helped lead the women's basketball team to Academic All-America Team status and has been instrumental in head coach Agnus Berenato's six-year perfect record of graduating players who have completed their eligibility as a Panther.

Tuscano joined the Panthers after serving as the Director of Athletics at Meyersdale Area School District, where she was responsible for scheduling all athletics events, as well as directing and supervising after-school tutoring programs for student-athletes. Tuscano also served as head coach of the Meyersdale Area Junior High girl's basketball team from 1997-2004 and was a member of the Meyersdale Athletic Boosters, the PIAA District 5 Committee and the Pennsylvania State Education Association.

Tuscano received her bachelor's degree from the University of Pittsburgh at Johnstown in 1999, where she spent four years on the women's basketball team. She completed her Master's Degree in Sports Science from Indiana University of Pennsylvania in May 2007.

JAMES SMITH

ASSISTANT STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING COACH

James Smith enters his third season with Pitt football, teaming with Buddy Morris in overseeing the Panthers' physical preparation regimen.

Smith boasts impressive experience in physical preparation training. He lectures, consults and has written extensively on the subject, authoring two training manuals and a lecture DVD sold worldwide. He has also served as editor to select publications by Dr. Yuri Verkhoshansky and teamed with six-time

Ultimate Fighting Champion Randy Couture as a co-author in writing a book outlining Couture's training and physical preparation for the sport of Mixed Martial Arts.

Smith joined Pitt after a three-year tenure at West Valley High School in Cottonwood Calif., where he was a physical education advisor, track and field coach and physical preparation coach for the school's highly successful football program. James and his wife Amber also founded, owned and operated the Power Development Inc., training hall for athletes in Cottonwood.

From 1998-2003, Smith served in the United States Navy. A year-and-a-half of his five-year enlistment was spent in Basic Underwater Demolition SEAL training in Coronado, Calif. As a result, James continues to consult with U.S. Navy SEALs and other military special operations commandos, both foreign and domestic, in their training.

Smith graduated cum laude from Berklee College of Music. He is a certified strength and conditioning specialist (CSCS) through the National Strength and Conditioning Association (NSCA) and additionally is certified in CPR.

TIM DUNLAVEY

ASSISTANT ATHLETIC TRAINER

Tim Dunlavey enters his second season as an assistant athletic trainer for the Pitt football team. He assists head athletic trainer Rob Blanc in all aspects of the Panthers' sports medicine needs.

Dunlavey came to Pitt from Penn State, where he served as an assistant athletic trainer for their men's and women's track and field teams in 2007-08.

The 2004 Pitt graduate in rehabilitation sciences earned his master's in allied health management from Ohio State in 2007, where he also served as a graduate assistant athletic trainer for the Buckeye football team. In between his two degrees, Dunlavey served as a certified athletic training intern with the Northwestern football team from 2004-2005. He is an NATABOC certified athletic trainer with certified first aid, CPR and AED training and is an accredited clinical instructor.

DOUG ZARUTAGRADUATE ASSISTANT ATHLETIC TRAINER

Doug Zaruta enters his second season as a graduate assistant athletic trainer with the Pitt football team. Zaruta is continuing his education at Pitt as he served with the Panthers' swimming and diving, football and women's basketball teams during his time as an undergraduate.

Zaruta was the 2007 and 2008 recipient of the Dr. Freddie H. Fu Undergraduate Athletic Training Scholarship and was on the Dean's List from 2005-08.

He is currently certified as an emergency medical technician and as an adult and child CPR/AED healthcare provider. Zaruta is also a member of numerous organizations, including the National Athletic Trainers Association.

Zaruta earned the degree of Bachelor of Philosophy in athletic training from Pitt in 2008, graduating with summa cum laude honors. He is currently pursuing a master's in science of sport medicine.

CHAD LEEASSISTANT STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING COACH

Chad Lee enters his second season as a full-time assistant coach with Pitt's strength and conditioning program after serving three years as a graduate assistant. In this capacity Lee assists Buddy Morris and James Smith with the Panthers' various training regimens throughout the year.

A 2004 graduate of Louisville with a bachelor's degree in justice administration, Lee was a standout linebacker for the Cardinals. He lettered at UL from 1999-2002, helping the Cardinals to four consecutive bowl games and two Conference USA titles. Lee was named to the league's All-Freshman Team and was also a UL Defensive MVP.

JEFF WALLOVIDEO COORDINATOR

Jeff Wallo joins the Panthers' football staff this season as its video coordinator.

Wallo comes to Pittsburgh from the NFL, where he served as an assistant video director for the Cleveland Browns from 2001-09. In 1999, Wallo first joined the Browns' staff as an intern and was promoted to a full-time video assistant for the 2000 season.

Wallo got his start on the collegiate level at Ohio State, where he served as a student assistant for video for two seasons prior to his graduation in 1998.

The Youngstown, Ohio, native is married to wife Rashel. The couple has a son, Jackson, born August 25, 2008.

TIM ENRIGHTHEAD FOOTBALL EQUIPMENT MANAGER

Tim Enright is in his 13th year as the head equipment manager for the Pitt football team.

In this capacity he supervises the equipment operation for the 100-plus member team, including organizing travel and transportation of equipment for away games and managing the day-to-day equipment needs for the players and coaching staff.

Enright has a long association with Pitt football and the University of Pittsburgh. As an undergraduate at Pitt, he was a student football manager (1987-91) and served as the team's head manager his senior year.

Following graduation in 1991, Enright worked one year at Martin Media Advertising before serving as a youth counselor at the Shuman Detention Center. He returned to his alma mater in 1993 as an assistant equipment manager in charge of the men's basketball team.

Enright was promoted to his current post with the football team in 1997. He has handled the equipment travel for nine bowl teams in total at Pitt.

FOOTBALL STAFF

SHAWN BESONG

VIDEO GRADUATE ASSISTANT

Shawn Besong, a former Pitt defensive back, is entering his second year as a video graduate assistant with the Panthers. In this capacity, he will work with video coordinator Jeff Wallo in serving the team's various practice and game film needs.

Besong spent three seasons with the team playing linebacker and in the secondary. In 2005, the Ambridge, Pa., native joined the Panthers as a walk-on transfer from NCAA Division II Slippery Rock University.

In 2008, Besong earned his degree in history and is currently pursuing a certificate in education.

GAME SUMMARIES

GAME 1

BOWLING GREEN 27 • #25 PITT 17

AUG. 30, 2008

HEINZ FIELD • 45,063

GAME NOTES—Pitt lost its season opener for only the second time in the past 12 seasons...the loss came despite the fact that Pitt held statistical advantages in total yards (393 to 254), rushing yards (129 to 64), passing yards (264 to 190), first downs (27 to 15) and possession time (33:08 to 26:52)...the Panthers, though, had four turnovers while Bowling Green had just one...Pitt led 14-0 in the second quarter and 17-14 at halftime...after falling into a two-touchdown deficit, Bowling Green (1-0) would outscore Pitt 27-3...Bowling Green defeated a ranked foe on the road for the second time in five years (No. 16 Purdue in 2003)...it was the first time Pitt lost to a Mid-American Conference team at home in 25 games...the Panthers fell to 25-3 all-time vs. MAC teams.

GAME 5

PITT 26 • #10 USF 21
OCT. 2, 2008
RAYMOND JAMES STADIUM • 50,307

GAME NOTES—LeSean McCoy rushed for two TDs and Bill Stull threw for another to lift Pitt to a 26-21 upset of No. 10 USF in front of an ESPN Thursday night national television audience...it was Pitt's third consecutive victory over a ranked foe...the Panthers defeated No. 23 Cincinnati and No. 2/1 West Virginia in 2007...facing a USF defense that had only been yielding 58 rushing yards per game, McCoy ran for 142 yards on 28 carries...his TDs covered six and three yards, the latter providing the winning points with 4:43 left in the game...Scott McKillop collected 12 tackles (all solo), two sacks and snuffed out a fake field goal to lead Pitt's impressive defensive effort...USF (5-1, 0-1) entered the game averaging 464 yards in total offense, but produced just 245 against Pitt...it was the Panthers' fourth consecutive win (4-1, 2-0) and lifted them back into the AP national rankings at No. 24.

RENTSCHLER FIELD • 39,535

GAME NOTES—Pitt clinched a berth in the Brut Sun Bowl with a 34-10 rout at Connecticut...a 24-point third quarter proved decisive in the result...it was Pitt's first win at UConn's Rentschler Field in three tries...Pitt improved to 9-3 (5-2 Big East), its first nine-win regular season since 1982...the nine wins were Pitt's most overall since 2002...the Panthers had five interceptions, including two by LB Greg Williams, who completed the scoring with a 20-yard TD return...the five picks were Pitt's most in a game since 2002...UConn completed only six passes on the day...Conor Lee kicked two field goals, giving him a single-season Pitt record 20, eclipsing Carson Long's mark of 18 set in 1976...the win snapped a two-game series losing streak to Connecticut (7-5, 3-4)...the Sun Bowl invite was made in the Panthers' locker room following the game, marking their first bowl berth since the 2004 Fiesta Bowl season.

DEC. 31, 2008

SUN BOWL STADIUM • 49,037

GAME NOTES—Making its first bowl appearance since the 2004 season, Pitt failed to take advantage of a masterful defensive performance, falling to Oregon State, 3-0, in the Sun Bowl...the Panthers (9-4) held the Beavers to 273 yards and forced three turnovers...unfortunately Pitt's offense was also bottled up, managing only 178 yards and never penetrating Oregon State's 36-yard line...the Panthers appeared poised to pull out another fourth-quarter comeback when T.J. Porter returned a punt 36 yards to the OSU 42 with 12:39 left in the game...a sack and forced fumble by the Beavers' Victor Butler, however, ended the threat...Pitt's final scoring opportunity came with 2:02 remaining when Conor Lee attempted a 57-yard field goal, but the kick fell just short of the crossbar...linebackers Scott McKillop and Austin Ransom led Pitt with 11 tackles each...McKillop also had an interception in the end zone to end the first half...Greg Romeus was named the Jimmy Rogers Jr. Most Valuable Lineman after collecting four tackles and two sacks...Oregon State (9-4) placekicker Justin Kahut accounted for the lone points of the day on a 44-yard field goal with 2:18 left in the second quarter...it was the lowest scoring bowl game since 1959, a 0-0 tie between Air Force and TCU in the Cotton Bowl.

RATING SYSTEMS

To settle countless arguments, Sports Illustrated in 1970 researched the first and only complete and wholly accurate list ever compiled of college football's mythical national champions. Every recognized authority that ever presumed to name a No. 1 was included:

Associated Press (1936-current) poll of sportswriters and broadcasters.

Parke H. Davis Ratings (1889-1935) chosen by Davis, a player at Princeton in 1889 and a former coach at Wisconsin, Amherst and Lafayette, and first published in the 1934 Spalding's Football Guide.

Dickinson System (1924-40) chosen by University of Illinois economics professor Frank G. Dickinson; based on system that awarded various point totals for wins over teams with winning or non-winning records.

Dunkel System (1929-current) a power index rating system devised by Dick Dunkel and syndicated to newspapers around the nation.

Football Writers Association of America (1954-current) chosen by a five-man committee representing membership.

Helms First Interstate Bank Athletic Foundation (1889-1982) originally founded in 1936 as Helms Athletic Foundation and changed in the early 1970s to Citizens Savings Athletic Foundation before current name was adopted in 1981.

Illustrated Football Annual (1924-41) an "azzi ratem" system published in this highly regarded magazine by William F. Boand.

Litkenhouse System (1934-1984) a "difference-by-score" method syndicated by Fred Litkenhouse and his brother Edward.

National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame (1959-1995) chosen annually by committee representing membership.

The Football Thesaurus (1927-58) system devised by Duke Houlgate and published in book of same title.

United Press International (1950-1995) poll of 35 college coaches. (Became the USA Today coaches poll.)

Williamson System (1932-63) system of syndicated power ratings chosen by Paul Williamson, a geologist and member of the Sugar Bowl committee.

Tony Dorsett and John Majors led Pittsburgh to its last national championship in 1976.

The Bowl Championship Series (BCS) was devised in 1998 to determine a national champion for college football. The arrangement matches the country's two top-rated teams against each other in a title game. Participating bowls include the Fiesta, Orange, Rose and Sugar. In addition to those four games, a BCS National Championship Game will be played at one of the bowl sites, which began for the 2006 season.

Dan Marino (left) is the fourth Panther player to receive induction into the Pro Football Hall of Fame. Tony Dorsett, Mike Ditka and Joe Schmidt are the others. Mark May (bottom left) became the 23rd Panther player or coach to be inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2005.

PRO FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME

DAN MARINO is the latest Pitt player to earn induction into the Pro Football Hall of Fame, officially receiving the honor on Aug. 7, 2005. Marino had a legendary 17-year career with the Miami Dolphins. An eight-time Pro Bowler, he retired after the 1999 season holding an incredible 25 NFL regular-season records and as the career leader in passing attempts (8,358), completions (4,967), yardage (61,361) and touchdowns (420). He was also one of the winningest quarterbacks in NFL history, earning 147 regular-season victories, one behind all-time leader John Elway.

TONY DORSETT was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1994. When he retired from the NFL following the 1989 season, he was the league's second all-time leading rusher with 12,739 yards. Dorsett has the distinction of being one of only two players in the history of football to win the Heisman Trophy, a collegiate national championship, a Super Bowl championship, and to be elected into the college and pro football halls of fame.

MIKE DITKA was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1988. Ditka was an All-America tight end at Pitt in 1960, his senior season. Ditka's pro football career included All-Pro honors. He also was a member of the Chicago Bears' 1963 NFL Championship squad. Ditka worked as an assistant coach at Dallas for nine seasons, spent 11 seasons as the head coach of the Chicago Bears and three seasons as head coach of the New Orleans Saints.

JOE SCHMIDT, Pitt's other inductee in the Pro Football Hall of Fame, was an All-America linebacker at Pitt in 1952. He went on to spend 13 years with the Detroit Lions, and was a member of the Lions' two NFL championship teams. He later coached the team for six seasons and led Detroit to its only playoff appearance of the 1970s. He was inducted in 1973.

Dan Marino

Quarterback

1979-82

13

- While at Pitt from 1979-82, broke nearly every major passing record in school history, including career marks for passing yards (8,597) and completions (693).
- Twenty-seven years after his final collegiate season, still holds Pitt records for touchdown passes in a career (79) and season (37).
- Led Pitt to four consecutive Top 10 finishes, including a pair of No. 2 rankings.
- Enhanced his reputation for delivering in the clutch in the 1982 Sugar Bowl, when he threw a 33-yard touchdown pass to tight end John Brown with 35 seconds left to give Pitt a come-from-behind 24-20 victory over Georgia.
- Named a 1981 All-American and finished fourth in the Heisman Trophy balloting that year.
- A first-round draft pick of the Miami Dolphins in 1983, Marino went on to gain recognition as one of the greatest quarterbacks in NFL history with a record-breaking 17-year career. He retired following the 1999 season as the league's all-time leader in passing attempts (8,358), completions (4,967), yardage (61,361) and touchdowns (420).
- Was elected into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2002 and the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 2005.
- Named a special trustee for the University of Pittsburgh in June 2008.

Tony Dorsett

Running Back

1973-76

33

- Winner of the 1976 Heisman Trophy, Maxwell Award and Walter Camp Award and was a four-time All-American (1973-76).
- First player in NCAA history to reach 6,000 career rushing yards. Including bowl games, rushed for 6,526 yards. His NCAA-recognized total (not including bowls) of 6,082 yards stood as the Division I record for 22 years (1976-98).
- Gained 100 or more yards 36 times, including 20 consecutive games.
- Remains Pitt's all-time leading scorer with 380 points.
- Holds Notre Dame opponent records for rushing yards against the Irish in a career (754) and game (303).
- Led Pitt to the 1976 national championship with a 12-0 record.
- In 1977, was the first-round pick of the Dallas Cowboys where he played 11 seasons (1977-87), including two Super Bowls and four Pro Bowls. Played his final year with the Denver Broncos (1988) and finished his career as the second all-time leading rusher in NFL history (12,739).
- Was elected into the College Football Hall of Fame and Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1994.

Marshall Goldberg

Running Back

1936-38

42

- Earned back-to-back All-America honors as a halfback (1937) and fullback (1938).
- Member of the famed "Dream Backfield" at Pitt, considered one of college football's greatest back tandems ever.
- Was the runner-up for the Heisman Trophy in 1938 and placed third in the Heisman balloting in 1937.
- Led Pitt to national championships in 1936 and 1937 with a combined 17-1-2 record.
- Spent seven years in the NFL playing halfback for the Chicago Cardinals (1939-42, 46-48).
- Member of the Cardinals' 1947 NFL championship team and had his No. 99 jersey retired by the franchise.
- Elected into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1958.

Joe Schmidt

Linebacker

1950-52

65

- Earned All-America honors as a senior linebacker in 1952.
- As both a collegian and professional, Schmidt was considered the era's prototype for linebacker play — instinctive, aggressive and smart.
- Played in 10 Pro Bowls during his 13-year career (1953-65) with the Detroit Lions, which included two NFL championships.
- Served as the Lions head coach from 1967-72, leading Detroit to its only playoff appearance in the 1970s.
- Elected into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1973 and College Football Hall of Fame in 2000.

Mark May

Offensive Tackle

1977-80

73

- Named a unanimous All-American and the winner of the prestigious Outland Trophy in 1980. To this day he remains Pitt's only winner of the Outland.
- Did not give up a sack his final two collegiate seasons.
- Was Pitt's "go-to" player on third-and-short situations, earning him the nickname "May Day."
- Helped lead Pitt to a four-year record of 39-8-1, including four bowl games and three Top 10 finishes.
- Was selected by the Washington Redskins in the first round of the 1981 NFL Draft and achieved fame as a standout member of the team's "Hogs" offensive line from 1981-90. Helped the Redskins to three Super Bowls (1982, 1983 and 1987), including world championships in '82 and '87. Finished his pro career with the San Diego Chargers (1991) and Arizona Cardinals (1992-93).
- Elected into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2005.

Bill Fralic

1981-84

- A three-time first team All-American, including unanimous status as a junior and senior.
- Became the first offensive lineman to twice finish in the top 10 of the Heisman Trophy balloting, placing sixth in 1984 and eighth in 1983.
- His collegiate career led to the creation of the "Pancake," a statistical barometer for each time Fralic put an opposing defensive lineman on his back.
- The second player taken overall in the 1985 NFL Draft, Fralic went on to an exceptional pro career from 1985-93, playing eight years with the Atlanta Falcons and his final season with the Detroit Lions. He was selected to the Pro Bowl four times.
- Was elected into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1998.

Mike Ditka

End

1958-60

89

- Was a unanimous All-America selection at end in 1960.
- Led Pitt in receiving three consecutive years and was also a standout linebacker and punter. He additionally played baseball and basketball at Pitt and was the intramural wrestling champion.

- In 1961 he was a first-round draft choice of the Chicago Bears and was a member of their 1963 NFL Championship team. He was also a member of the Dallas Cowboys when they won Super Bowl VI and earned All-Pro four times.
- Spent 11 seasons as the head coach of the Chicago Bears, leading them to victory in Super Bowl XX, and later coached the New Orleans Saints.
- Elected into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1986 and Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1988.

Hugh Green

Defensive End

1977-80

99

- A three-time first team All-American and won the 1980 Lombardi Award, Maxwell Award and the Walter Camp Award.
- Finished second in the 1980 Heisman Trophy balloting, an unprecedented finish for a purely defensive player.
- Was the first-ever defensive player to win the Walter Camp Award.
- Named to Pitt's All-Time Team after just his sophomore year.
- Twenty-eight years following his final collegiate season, remains Pitt's all-time sack leader with 49.
- Helped lead Pitt to a four-year record of 39-8-1, including four bowl games and three Top 10 finishes.
- First-round selection by the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 1981 and played 11 years in the NFL.
- Elected into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1996.

PITT

BOWL HISTORY

Bobby Grier (wearing number 38) became the first African-American to ever play in the Sugar Bowl on Jan. 2, 1956.

ROSE BOWL • JAN. 2, 1928

STANFORD	0	0	7	0	—	7
PITTSBURGH	0	0	6	0	—	6

Pitt's first bowl trip resembled a politician's whistle-stop tour—wherever Pitt was at lunchtime during its trek west, it practiced. The routine was simple: deboard the train around 11:15; explore the day's town until noon; lunch at 12; walk lunch off, then practice; reboard the train. So it was that Pitt practiced in Dodge City, Albuquerque and Winslow, Arizona, on the way to Pasadena. The game had a sentimental storyline: the coach against his mentor. Panther Head Coach John B. "Jock" Sutherland had played for Stanford Coach Glenn "Pop" Warner when the latter was at Pitt. Amidst all that, the game, although close, was controlled by Stanford. Pitt grabbed a 6-0 third-quarter lead when Jimmy Hagan scooped up a Cardinal fumble and ran 20 yards for a touchdown. The extra point was missed. Stanford, which made several marches deep into Pitt territory, finally scored on an unusual play. On fourth-and-goal at the two, Stanford quarterback Biff Hoffman completed a pass to Bob Sims, but it was short of the goal line. Sims was hit and fumbled, but Frank Wilton picked up the loose ball and carried it in to tie the game. Hoffman's extra point won it, 7-6. Pitt, a slight favorite entering the game, mustered very little offense in its first of four Rose Bowl games.

If vintage football films give you the impression that the game of the 20s and 30s was run, run, and run again, think again. USC's Trojans bombed Pitt with an all-out passing attack. The game started on a bright note for "Jock" Sutherland's team when Toby Uansa rushed 68 yards on Pitt's first play. Pitt failed to score, then the walls caved in. Gaius Shaver connected with Henry Edelson for a 55-yard touchdown. Later in the quarter, Shaver hit Ernest Pinckert for a 28-yard score, capitalizing on a Pitt fumble. Another fumble led to USC's third touchdown, a short run which opened the score to 19-0. Two Jesses set up the Trojans' next score when Jesse Mortensen and Jesse Hill teamed for a 51-yard pass play. Russell Saunders helped convert a USC interception into a 33-0 lead with his 13-yard scoring run. Pitt finally broke through in the third quarter when Uansa threw a 28-yard pass to William Wallinchus. Southern Cal sandwiched two more long touchdown passes (38 and 62 yards) around a Tom Parkinson-to-Paul Collins 36-yard TD pass for Pitt to arrive at the final score. In all, the Trojans scored the most points against Pitt since 1903. It would be Sutherland's second-worst margin of defeat in his 15 seasons at Pitt; the worst would come three years later, also against USC in the Rose Bowl.

Pitt's coach, John B. "Jock" Sutherland, would try a new play after two Rose Bowl losses, so he took the team to Tucson to practice for its first Rose Bowl win. Instead Sutherland suffered the worst loss in his Pitt career. It was the first time since 1928 that Pitt was shut out and actually lost the game; it had played four scoreless ties since a 6-0 loss to Carnegie Tech. With 83,000 in attendance, the Panthers stayed close until the fourth quarter before collapsing. USC's Homer Griffith threw, and later caught, a touchdown pass as the Trojans built a 14-0 lead through three quarters. After Irvine Warburton scored to make the score 21-0, Pitt fumbled the kickoff, and Warburton scored again shortly thereafter. A blocked punt set up the final touchdown. Several Panthers were singled out by the crowd with standing ovations: ends Ted Dailey and Joe Skladany, guard Charles Hartwig, and back Warren Heller, who rushed for 63 yards in the final game of his brilliant Pitt career.

"Jock" Sutherland was intent on winning the Rose Bowl in his fourth try. To that end, Pitt spent two weeks working out on the west coast, for Sutherland was not going to accept 0-4 in Rose Bowl play. His tactics worked, and captain Bobby LaRue led Pitt to a 21-0 victory. LaRue's running set up the first touchdown of the game, which, fittingly, he scored. LaRue's 50-yard run in the third quarter, which would have gone 75 yards for the touchdown if not for a diving tackle, set up Frank Patrick's touchdown. Pitt led, 14-0, after three quarters. The defense added a late touchdown, returning an interception. So elated was Sutherland that he substituted every player who made the trip, so each could forever relate the experience of playing in a Rose Bowl victory. After four tries, the coach had finally overcome one of the few obstacles in his remarkable career.

A controversial pass interference penalty against Pitt's Bobby Grier, the first black man ever to play in the Sugar Bowl, put Georgia Tech on the doorstep for the game's only touchdown. Pitt, under new Head Coach John Michelosen—the only man in Pitt history to play and coach in bowl games (he was a quarterback on the 1936 Rose Bowl team)—had several chances to tie the game but hit a wall of futility. Grier's penalty gave Tech the ball on the 1, from where Wade Mitchell snuck in for the score. A fumble killed a first-quarter drive, then quarterback Corny Salvaterra was stopped on a fourth-and-goal just before halftime. Pitt's Ray DiPasquale intercepted a pass to squelch a fourth quarter threat by Tech. In the final moments, Pitt made a furious attempt to tie the game. The Panthers, who were penalized twice on the last drive, were on Tech's 5-yard line when time ran out.

Coach John Michelosen's team had wanted a rematch with Georgia Tech, but the result was the same—a seven-point loss. Pitt outgained Tech by 106 yards, 313-207, but was plagued by turnovers. Georgia Tech converted an early interception into a touchdown and a 7-0 lead. Pitt was stopped on a goal-line stand at the start of the second quarter, and Tech increased its lead late in the quarter with a halfback-option TD pass. Pitt quarterback Corny Salvaterra hit Dick Bowen with a 36-yard scoring pass just before the half, and Pitt trailed, 14-7. Bowen's fumble on the second-half kickoff set up the clinching touchdown. Pitt pulled to within seven on Salvaterra's sneak, but could draw no closer.

A new era in Pitt football was ushered in with the Panthers' first bowl appearance in 17 years. Coach-of-the-Year Johnny Majors had revived a struggling program and Pitt was 6-4-1 entering this game. Freshman Tony Dorsett was a big part of the turnaround, rushing for 1,686 yards. Pitt struck first, with Dorsett scoring two plays after Tom Perko recovered Arizona State quarterback Danny White's fumble on the first play of the game. But the Sun Devils, playing on their own field, proved too tough. Woody Green scored four plays after Dorsett's touchdown to tie the game. Arizona State scored three touchdowns in 6:04 of the fourth quarter, and although Pitt blocked all three extra points, the game ended one-sided after being tied at halftime. Dorsett rushed for 100 yards, but Pitt turned the ball over seven times. Both quarterbacks, White and Pitt's Billy Daniels, threw three interceptions, but White completed 14-of-19 for 269 yards. Daniels was 7-20 for just 57 yards.

A player rushing for 100 yards is impressive. Two players on the same team is remarkable. Three is unheard of, but that is how Pitt knocked off Kansas. Elliott Walker (11 carries for 123 yards, 11.2 average) got the ball rolling with a 60-yard touchdown run in the first quarter. Tony Dorsett (27-142) scored two touchdowns in the second quarter. Pitt had nearly 300 rushing yards at the intermission. Quarterback Robert Haygood ran the veer offense to perfection, rushing for 101 yards (14 carries) when he wasn't busy pitching out to Dorsett. Haygood also connected with Gordon Jones for a touchdown after Walker scored his second of the game. Jones set up his own touchdown with a 63-yard kickoff return. With eight wins, Pitt had its best season since 1963. Dorsett rushed for 1,686 yards on the season, matching his 1973 total.

The many remarkable accomplishments Tony Dorsett achieved in his four years at Pitt were punctuated by his role in this win, one that gave Pitt its first national championship in 39 years. Dorsett, quarterback Matt Cavanaugh and a marauding defense just would not be denied in the first indoor Sugar Bowl game. Cavanaugh, named the game's MVP, scored from six yards out to give Pitt a 7-0 lead. The celebration of that touchdown became a Sports Illustrated cover that can be seen at several sites around Pitt's campus. The photo headline simply read: "PITT IS IT!" Gordon Jones turned a short pass into a 59-yard touchdown excursion in the second quarter. Dorsett's 10-yard score late in the half cemented the victory. He was far from through, however. After gaining 65 yards in the first half, the Heisman Trophy winner exploded in the second to finish with a Sugar Bowl record 202 yards rushing, including 67 on one run that set up one of Carson Long's two second-half field goals. The defense created six turnovers, and limited the Bulldogs to 181 yards. Pitt defenders actually caught more Georgia passes than did Georgia receivers (four interceptions, compared to three completions in 22 attempts). Vince Dooley, Georgia's head coach, said this about the 12-0 Panthers: "They proved today they are the best in the country. They have amazing balance; they are the best defensive team we've seen. I think that is obvious. They are also the best offensive team we've faced." Pitt coach Johnny Majors, who completed his four-year stint at Pitt with a 33-13-1 record (after a combined 13-29 mark in the previous four years) was named Coach-of-the-Year for the second time at Pitt.

Pitt set five Gator Bowl records for offensive proficiency in an astounding demolition of the highly regarded Clemson Tigers. Matt Cavanaugh completed 23-of-36 passes for 387 yards and four touchdowns as Pitt outgained Clemson, 566-268. Three scoring tosses went to fullback Elliott Walker, who joined Tony Dorsett as the second Pitt back ever to rush for 1,000 yards in a season. Gordon Jones scored the other TD on one of his 10 receptions for 163 yards. Cavanaugh threw for 211 yards and two touchdowns in the first half alone. Clemson's vaunted passing combination of Steve Fuller-to-Jerry Butler was rendered ineffective by a Pitt secondary which swooped in for four interceptions, two by senior safety Bob Jury. Cavanaugh, an All-American in 1977, missed part of the season after suffering a broken wrist against Notre Dame in the first game of the year. "I shudder to think what he could have done had he stayed healthy," said Panther Coach Jackie Sherrill, who finished his first year at Pitt with a 9-2-1 mark.

The Panthers saved their worst performance of the season for this bowl outing with North Carolina State. Primarily a running team in 1978, Pitt attempted to open it up on this night, throwing 48 passes. Four were intercepted, however. The Wolfpack, led by star running back Ted Brown, rolled up a 23-3 fourth quarter lead before Pitt quarterback Rick Trocano tried to bring the Panthers back. An 18-play drive featured four fourth-down conversions, the last of which resulted in a Freddie Jacobs touchdown. Pitt moved to State's 34-yard line with five minutes remaining, but an interception settled the issue. Trocano was intercepted twice more before the game ended, but he also led Pitt to the game's final touchdown. "Execution on our part was our biggest problem," Coach Jackie Sherrill said. "We didn't play well...and the turnovers hurt us." Pitt finished 8-4.

Pitt finished the 1979 season with a 10-game winning streak, built in part around the arm of freshman quarterback Dan Marino. The season finale came on Christmas Day, with the Panthers rounding out an 11-1 campaign with a 16-10 win over Arizona. The Wildcats, coached by former Pitt radio commentator Tony Mason, threatened often but did not score a touchdown until the game's waning moments. Junior cornerback Terry White intercepted two passes. One set up the second of three Mark Schubert field goals; the other allowed Pitt to run out the clock. Two of Schubert's kicks were from 46 yards out. Pitt's only touchdown came after a 12-play drive, with Marino hitting Benjie Pryor from 12 yards out. The last three plays of the drive: Marino to Mike Dombrowski for 34 yards, Marino to Ralph Still for 24 yards, and the touchdown.

Pitt's defense wanted this game badly. Its leader for four years, Hugh Green, finished second in the Heisman Trophy voting behind South Carolina's George Rogers. With the chance to avenge that result, Pitt smothered Gamecocks with a swarming defense and an efficient offense. Rick Trocano and Dan Marino split time at quarterback; each threw a touchdown pass and Trocano added a short TD run. Although Rogers gained 113 yards, his two fumbles were more of a factor in the game than his rushing output. Tom Flynn recovered Rogers' fumble on the first play of the game, leading to Trocano's score. Randy McMillan scored two touchdowns as Pitt rolled to a 37-3 lead. The defense was led by Rickey Jackson, who made 19 tackles (14 solos). Pitt finished the season 11-1.

One of the most dramatic finishes in Pitt football history gave Pitt its second Sugar Bowl win over Georgia. Pitt trailed, 20-17, with 42 seconds remaining. It faced a fourth-and-5 at the Bulldog 33. Coach Jackie Sherrill disdained the potential 50-yard field goal attempt. "With five minutes to go I said we were not here to tie, we were here to win," Sherrill said. Dan Marino wanted to throw a short pass to a running back to get the first down, but a Georgia blitz left tight end John Brown in single coverage down the middle. Marino was right on target for the touchdown, his third of the game. The Panther defense limited Herschel Walker to 84 yards on 25 carries.

The Panthers' season came to a dismal end as Pitt lost to Southern Methodist in the Mustangs' own backyard. Dan Marino, in his last game at Pitt, was plagued by dropped passes on the cold, rainy day. He completed 19-of-37 for 181 yards. Fumbles were the story of the first quarter. Joe McCall lost one at the SMU one-yard line, but Mustang QB Lance McIlhenny returned the favor with a fumble at the Pitt seven. Eric Schubert's missed field goal attempt left the game scoreless at the half. Marino completed five straight short passes to set up Schubert's 43-yard kick which gave Pitt its only points. SMU's "Pony Express" backfield (Eric Dickerson and Craig James) led an 80-yard drive, which McIlhenny capped off with a nine-yard run. Pitt's last chance ended when a Marino pass was tipped and intercepted in the end zone.

John Congemi completed a school-record 31 passes for 341 yards, but a late Ohio State touchdown pass spoiled Congemi's, and Pitt's, afternoon. Congemi's second-quarter touchdown pass to tight end Clint Wilson tied the score at 7-7, but the Buckeyes led, 14-7, entering the fourth quarter. Wilson fell on Joe McCall's fumble in the end zone to tie the score early in the fourth quarter. Ohio State's Keith Byars scored his second touchdown by returning the ensuing kickoff 99 yards. Congemi was six-for-six on Pitt's next touchdown drive, which culminated with an 11-yard pass to Dwight Collins. Congemi, who completed 19-of-27 in the second half, had his conversion pass broken up, and Pitt trailed, 21-20. A 17-play drive later in the quarter ended with Snuffy Everett's 37-yard field goal to put the Panthers on top. Quarterback Mike Tomczak led Ohio State back, ending an 89-yard drive with a 39-yard bomb to Thad Jemison, who scored with 39 seconds remaining. Head Coach Foge Fazio's Panthers drove to the Buckeye 24, but could get no further.

BLUEBONNET BOWL • DEC. 31, 1987

Houston, Texas, The Astrodome

TEXAS	14	3	3	12	—	32
PITTSBURGH	7	0	7	13	—	27

Despite late heroics from Larry Wanke, Pitt was grounded in this aerial circus, as Texas quarterback Brett Stafford and split end Tony Jones set Bluebonnet Bowl records. The New Year's Eve crowd was treated to an action-packed game from the start. Stafford connected with Jones for a 77-yard touchdown on the first play from scrimmage. Pitt retaliated quickly: Billy Owens returned the kickoff 45 yards, Billy Osborn hit Reggie Williams for 45 more yards on a trick play; then Craig Heyward tied the score with a four-yard burst. Six plays later, the Longhorns took the lead for good as Stafford hit Jones on a short pass that he broke for a 60-yard touchdown. Stafford finished the first quarter with 202 yards passing on the way to a 368-yard night. Jones set records for receiving yards and longest reception. Wanke replaced Darnell Dickerson early in the third quarter after Dickerson suffered a knee injury. Wanke completed 8-of-20 passes for 172 yards and three touchdowns, including two late in the fourth quarter that cut the Longhorns' lead to five. Heyward rushed for 136 yards, winning his personal battle with Texas star Eric Metcalf, who finished with 95 yards rushing. Heyward ended the season with 1,791 yards, the second-best in Pitt history. Pitt finished the year at 8-4, their most successful season since 1983.

JOHN HANCOCK BOWL • DEC. 30, 1989

El Paso, Texas, Sun Bowl Stadium

TEXAS A&M	7	3	12	6	—	28
PITTSBURGH	7	10	7	7	—	31

Led by bowl MVP Alex Van Pelt's 354 yards passing, Pitt parlayed a John Hancock Bowl-record 530 yards in offense into a 31-28 come-from-behind victory over Texas A&M. It was a day of firsts for the Panthers. Paul Hackett, named head coach moments before kickoff, won his first game as a head coach. It also was Pitt's first bowl win since the Panthers' 24-20 Sugar Bowl victory over Georgia in 1982. Van Pelt, who completed 20 of 40 passes and threw for two touchdowns, rallied the Panthers from a 28-24 deficit, when he connected with Henry Tuten on a 44-yard touchdown strike with just 2:19 remaining in the game, giving Pitt a 31-28 lead. Tailback Curvin Richards rushed for 156 yards on 23 carries and scored the first points of the game with a 12-yard TD. Texas A&M countered with a nine-yard touchdown run by quarterback Lance Pavlas, tying the score at 7-7 to end the first quarter. With the score tied at 10 late in the first half, Van Pelt threw an eight-yard touchdown pass to Ronald Redmon, giving Pitt a 17-10 halftime lead. Flanker Olanda Truitt completed his freshman season in stellar fashion, catching four passes for 124 yards, including a key 59-yard reception that set up Redmon's score. Cernel Smith finished the game with 10 tackles and Barry Threats had a game-ending interception, which ended Texas A&M's final drive and secured the Panthers' victory. The Hancock Bowl win marked the end of another decade in Pitt football history and the dawn of the Hackett coaching era. The Panthers finished the 1989 season with an 8-3-1 record.

BOWL HISTORY

AXA/EQUITABLE LIBERTY BOWL • DEC. 31, 1997

Memphis, Tenn., Liberty Bowl

SO. MISS.	7	7	14	13	—	41
PITTSBURGH	0	7	0	0	—	7

Playing its first postseason game in eight seasons, Pittsburgh fell victim to an opportunistic Southern Mississippi defense and suffered a 41-7 defeat in the 1997 AXA/Equitable Liberty Bowl. It was the Panthers' first-ever appearance in the Liberty Bowl and their first bowl game since a 31-28 victory over Texas A&M in the 1989 John Hancock Bowl. Pittsburgh threatened early, driving to the Golden Eagles' 13 on its initial series, but failed to score any points. Southern Miss responded with a pair of touchdown drives for a 14-0 second-quarter lead. The Panther offense, held in check for most of the game, had its lone shining moment when quarterback Pete Gonzalez connected with Jake Hoffart on an 89-yard pass-and-run touchdown as Pittsburgh trailed 14-7 at halftime. Hoffart, who finished with five catches for 121 yards, set a Liberty Bowl record with his touchdown catch. The Panthers, however, would come no closer. USM's defense returned a fumble and two interceptions for touchdowns in the second half to roll to its first victory ever over Pittsburgh.

INSIGHT.COM BOWL • DEC. 28, 2000

Phoenix, Ariz., Bank One Ballpark

IOWA STATE	7	20	0	10	—	37
PITTSBURGH	7	0	13	9	—	29

Making its second postseason appearance under Walt Harris, Pittsburgh rolled up big offensive numbers but fell in a shootout to Iowa State, 37-29, in the Insight.com Bowl. The Panthers held statistical advantages in total offense (491 yards to 375), passing (347 to 308) and rushing (164 to 107). The Panthers struck on their very first possession of the game when John Turman hit a streaking Antonio Bryant for a 72-yard touchdown and 7-0 lead. The Cyclones, however, responded with 27 unanswered points, including 20 in the second period. Pittsburgh pulled within 27-14 when Rod Rutherford snuck in from two yards out. Bryant then made a brilliant diving catch for a 44-yard touchdown and the Panthers trailed 27-20 with 2:05 left in the third. The Panthers' momentum was slowed when Iowa State's JaMain Billups returned a punt 72 yards for a score early in the fourth. Kevan Barlow, who finished with 114 rushing yards, bulled in from the three to make it 34-29 at the 9:45 mark. But the Panthers could draw no closer. The contest marked the first football game ever played in Bank One Ballpark, home of Major League Baseball's Arizona Diamondbacks.

VISIT FLORIDA TANGERINE BOWL • DEC. 20, 2001

Orlando, Fla., Florida Citrus Bowl

NC STATE	3	7	0	9	—	19
PITTSBURGH	3	21	3	7	—	34

Pittsburgh captured its first bowl victory since 1989 with a 34-19 win over NC State in the Visit Florida Tangerine Bowl. The victory gave the Panthers their strongest close to a season since 1980 by winning their final six games.

Hobbled by an ankle injury, Antonio Bryant went on to earn Most Valuable Player honors after catching seven passes for 101 yards and two touchdowns. David Priestley put up MVP-like statistics himself, completing 18-of-32 passes for 271 yards and the two scoring strikes to Bryant. The duo propelled the Panthers to a 24-10 halftime lead. The Pittsburgh defense held strong and limited Wolfpack quarterback Philip Rivers to just 189 yards through the air and sacked him four times. NC State closed to 27-19 in the fourth quarter but blitzing Lewis Moore quelled the threat when he sacked Rivers and forced a fumble. Tyre Young picked it up and ran 16 yards untouched for the clinching TD. Moore, who finished with seven tackles (all solo), including two for losses, was named Pittsburgh's Defensive MVP.

INSIGHT BOWL • DEC. 26, 2002

Phoenix, Ariz., Bank One Ballpark

PITTSBURGH	7	3	14	14	—	38
OREGON STATE	7	3	3	0	—	13

Pittsburgh achieved its finest season in two decades with a 38-13 triumph over Oregon State in the Insight Bowl. The Panthers finished 9-4, their winningest season since 1982, and secured a spot in the final national polls for the first time since 1989. The win marked the Panthers' second consecutive postseason victory. A stifling defensive effort, efficient offense as well as a special teams gem keyed the result. Tied at 10 at halftime, OSU quarterback Derek Anderson was intercepted by Tez Morris, who returned the ball 36 yards to the Beavers' 23 early in the third quarter. Rod Rutherford completed a 22-yard pass to Larry Fitzgerald to the one before rushing up the middle for a 17-10 lead just three minutes into the second half. The Panthers broke open the contest later in the third when Shawn Robinson fielded a punt at the Panthers' 34, ran wide to the right and sprinted down the sideline for a 66-yard touchdown. It was the first punt return for a TD in Pittsburgh's bowl history. Pittsburgh iced the game with a 44-yard touchdown drive climaxed by Brandon Miree's seven-yard burst. Miree, who earned the game's Offensive MVP honor, finished with 113 yards rushing on 20 carries (5.7 avg.). In contrast, OSU tailback Steven Jackson — who entered the game as the nation's fifth-leading rusher — was held to a season-low 34 yards.

CONTINENTAL TIRE BOWL • DEC. 27, 2003

Charlotte, N.C., Ericsson Stadium

PITTSBURGH	0	13	3	0	—	16
VIRGINIA	7	10	3	3	—	23

A skillful and methodical opening drive that moved 69 yards to the Virginia one-yard line ultimately failed to produce any points, setting the tone in Pittsburgh's 23-16 loss in the Continental Tire Bowl. Virginia scored the game's first touchdown four plays later and went on to win its second consecutive Continental Tire Bowl. Missed opportunities were the theme for Pitt, which finished 8-5 for the season, with a missed extra point, missed field goal, an interception and a lost fumble on a potential game-tying drive. Heisman Trophy runner-up Larry Fitzgerald saw his NCAA record touchdown streak end at 18 games, but the All-American still led the Panthers with five catches for 77 yards. Brandon Miree rushed for 110 yards and added four receptions, including one for a 17-yard touchdown. The scoring pass from Rod Rutherford was his 37th of the season, tying Dan Marino's school record set in 1981.

TOSTITOS FIESTA BOWL • JAN. 1, 2005

Tempe, Ariz., Sun Devil Stadium

PITTSBURGH	0	0	7	0	—	7
UTAH	7	7	21	0	—	35

Making its first appearance in the Fiesta Bowl since the 1983 season, Pitt fell victim to a lethal Utah passing game and equally potent pass rush in a 35-7 defeat. Tyler Palko was sacked a Fiesta Bowl-record nine times and the Panthers' offense was grounded most of the evening. The Utes finished the 2004 season with a 12-0 record and ranked as high as fourth in the final polls. Pitt finished with an 8-4 mark and ranked No. 25. Utah scored touchdowns on five of its first seven possessions, including all three in the third quarter. Pitt advanced into Utah territory three times in the first half but four sacks and a blocked field goal kept the Panthers off the scoreboard. The Panthers' lone score came on a beautiful over-the-shoulder grab by Greg Lee that went for a 31-yard touchdown with 4:28 left in the third quarter. Lee had seven receptions for 93 yards, while fellow wideout Joe DeSardo had nine catches for 109 yards.

SUN BOWL • DEC. 31, 2008

El Paso, Texas, Sun Bowl Stadium

Making its first bowl appearance since the 2004 season, Pitt failed to take advantage of a masterful defensive performance, falling to Oregon State, 3-0, in the Sun Bowl. The Panthers (9-4) held the Beavers to 273 yards and forced three turnovers. Unfortunately Pitt's offense was also bottled up, managing only 178 yards and never penetrating Oregon State's 36-yard line. The Panthers appeared poised to pull out another fourth-quarter comeback when T.J. Porter returned a punt 36 yards to the OSU 42 with 12:39 left in the game. A sack and forced fumble by the Beavers' Victor Butler, however, ended the threat. Pitt's final scoring opportunity came with 2:02 remaining when Conor Lee attempted a 57-yard field goal, but the kick fell just short of the crossbar. Linebackers Scott McKillop and Austin Ransom led Pitt with 11 tackles each. McKillop also had an interception in the end zone to end the first half. Greg Romeus was named the Jimmy Rogers Jr. Most Valuable Lineman after collecting four tackles and two sacks. Oregon State (9-4) placekicker Justin Kahut accounted for the lone points of the day on a 44-yard field goal with 2:18 left in the second quarter. It was the lowest scoring bowl game since 1959, a 0-0 tie between Air Force and TCU in the Cotton Bowl.

The following list was compiled from various sources during the summer of 1981, and has been updated and corrected annually since then. Although all cautions were taken to avoid errors, we do realize that names were most likely omitted due to the immensity of the task. If you have additions, or find errors in the list, please contact the Media Relations Office. Active players are in bold.

* In the 1960s, the AFL established the same draft format as the NFL by drafting in an inverse order of finish. Each league had its own draft, allowing for athletes to be drafted by the AFL and the NFL.

 Jack Durishan was drafted in 1943 by Pittsburgh. He served in the armed forces and after returning was drafted again in 1947 by the New York Yankees.

 Steve Jastrzembski was drafted by Boston (AFL) in 1962 and Baltimore (NFL) in 1961.

PITT

THE UNIVERSITY

CHANCELLOR OF THE UNIVERSITY AND DISTINGUISHED SERVICE PROFESSOR OF LAW MARK A. NORDENBERG

2009 PITT FOOTBALL

Mark A. Nordenberg joined the faculty of Pitt's School of Law in 1977, where he quickly built a reputation as an outstanding teacher. He was the initial recipient of the Excellence in Teaching Award now presented annually by the Law School's graduating class. He also was one of the first faculty members to receive the Chancellor's Distinguished Teaching Award, which recognizes teaching excellence university-wide. His area of academic specialty is civil litigation, and he has served as a member of both the U.S. Supreme Court's Advisory Committee on Civil Rules and the Pennsylvania Supreme Court's Civil Procedural Rules Committee.

Earlier in his career, Chancellor Nordenberg served as Dean of the School of Law and Interim Provost of the University. He has long been an active leader in the broader community, leading efforts focused on such key issues as the proposed consolidation of the city and county governments, the challenges facing the state's urban schools, the work force development needs of the region, and issues of governance in the city's public schools. He served as the founding chair or co-chair of such technology-driven economic development initiatives as the Pittsburgh Digital Greenhouse, the Pittsburgh Life Sciences Greenhouse, the Robotics Foundry, and the Technology Collaborative. He also is a member of the board of the Allegheny Conference on Community Development and a Director of Bank of New York Mellon.

Among many other forms of recognition, Chancellor Nordenberg has been named Pittsburgh's Person of the Year by both Vector's Pittsburgh and Pittsburgh magazine. To celebrate the remarkable progress achieved during his first decade as Chancellor, University trustees, alumni leaders and other special friends contributed $2.5 million to endow a faculty chair in his name. This past year, he was named a "History Maker in Education" by the Senator John Heinz History Center.

This past year also was Mark Nordenberg's 14th year of service as Chancellor. It was a year of great challenge, as the talented and committed "people of Pitt" worked to maintain the University's extraordinary momentum in the face of the unrelenting financial pressures brought by what now has been called "the Great Recession."

According to Chancellor Nordenberg, "some of our greatest satisfactions ultimately will come from knowing that, even in the face of historic challenges, we continued to craft a record of excellence in an institution that is contributing so much to the common good as a leader in education, a pioneer in research and a partner in regional development."

In the face of serious pressures to many of its revenue streams — including those associated with the steep decline in the stock market and significant mid-year cuts to its state appropriation — the University implemented a series of fiscally prudent steps. These included budget cuts to both academic and support units, the implementation of centralized controls over all new and replacement hiring, a deliberate slowing of the pace of construction projects on all five campuses, and the imposition of an institution-wide salary freeze.

According to Chancellor Nordenberg, what distinguishes Pitt from many other organizations engaged in their own budgetary struggles is that demand for the principal products of the University — the highest quality higher education and cutting-edge research — has not diminished as a result of the recession but continues to grow. And during the past year, well informed observers, both at a distance and close to home, publicly advanced what has long been one of the Chancellor's main messages — that Pitt's progress is essential to the economic health and social vitality of the entire region.

A favorable front-page article in The New York Times positively described Pittsburgh's passage to an economy grounded in university-based research. A Miami Herald column enviously identified research as the foundation for our transformation into a "Knowledge City." The Cleveland Plain Dealer analyzed lessons from "Pittsburgh's renaissance," with one respected commentator, who knows both cities well, concluding that there is a "growing gulf" between Cleveland and Pittsburgh in higher education and stating that Cleveland does not have the equivalent of a Pitt, which was described as "a big engine, both regionally and nationally."

One of the most intriguing assessments was offered in a New York Times column on "brainy cities." Its author concluded, "Brainy cities have low divorce rates, low crime, high job creation, ethnic diversity, and creative capitalism. They are places like Pittsburgh, with its top-notch universities . . .".

PITT

Locally, a highly respected analyst of regional economic trends writing in the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, confirmed that this region had been more successful than most in weathering the recession because fully “one-fifth of the jobs in the Pittsburgh region . . . are in the two most recession resistant sectors: health care and higher education.” In fact, the education and health services sector has become the region’s largest employment sector and is the only sector that has added jobs each and every year since 1995.

During the past year, the University continued to rise in the ranks of the country’s finest universities. Some dimensions of its progress can be measured quantitatively. For example,

- Applications for admission to the undergraduate programs on the Pittsburgh campus soared past the 21,600 mark — a dramatic rise when compared to either the 7,800 applications received in 1995 or the 20,600 received just last year.
- Pitt moved into fifth place nationally in terms of the research grants competitively won by members of its faculty from the National Institutes of Health. That NIH top ten, in rank order, now consists of Harvard, Johns Hopkins, Penn, the University of California at San Francisco (UCSF), Pitt, Michigan, Washington, UCLA, Duke and Washington University in St. Louis, which is very good company.
- According to rankings released by the National Science Foundation, Pitt also ranks among the top ten universities nationally in terms of total federal science and engineering research and development support. That top ten consists of Johns Hopkins, Washington, Michigan, Penn, UCLA, Duke, Columbia, Stanford, UCSF and Pitt.

Total annual research expenditures for the University passed the $650 million mark last year. A national study released last fall utilized methods developed by the U.S. Department of Commerce to conclude that “every $1 million in R&D spending generates 36 jobs.” Through its research spending alone, then, Pitt supports some 23,500 local jobs.

Of course, it is the growing quality of the University’s programs that keeps all of these numbers rising and that has become the defining characteristic of its institutional distinction. Not only is the number of applications for admission soaring, but the academic accomplishments of enrolled students is growing in strength, and the performance of those students is a source of great pride. During the past year, for example, Pitt undergraduates claimed such high national honors as a Gates Cambridge Scholarship, Goldwater Scholarships and Humanity in Action Fellowships — further cementing the University’s position as one of the country’s leading producers of high-achieving students.

Faculty members not only attracted financial support for their work but received high honors for their achievements. Among the special forms of recognition received during the past year were election to the American Academy of Arts and Science, the Institute of Medicine, the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the American Academy of Nursing and the American Educational Research Association. Other high honors included the National Institutes of Health Director’s Pioneer Award, the American Cancer Society Research Professor Award and the James A. Rawley Prize in Atlantic History. It also was a year in which the great potential of less senior faculty members was recognized through highly selective early career awards made by both the Alfred Sloan Foundation and the Pew Foundation.

Of course, it also was a very special year for Pitt sports. Our football team claimed nine regular-season wins and earned the right to play in the Sun Bowl. Our women’s basketball team made it to the Sweet Sixteen round of the NCAA tournament for the second consecutive year. And our men’s basketball team claimed the program’s first-ever number one national ranking, its first-ever number one NCAA tournament seed and advanced to the Elite Eight. In the process, Coach Jamie Dixon broke a 57-year-old record by claiming the most wins by an NCAA Division I head coach in his first six seasons and was named the Naismith Men’s College Basketball Coach of the Year.

Chancellor Nordenberg has long been a strong and enthusiastic supporter of Pitt athletics. He is a past Chair of the Big East Conference and a past member of the NCAA’s board and executive committee. He continues to serve on the Big East executive committee and recently served as co-chair of its search for a new commissioner. Chancellor Nordenberg also serves as the Big East Conference representative to the Presidential Oversight Committee of the Bowl Championship Series.

Born in Duluth, Minnesota, Chancellor Nordenberg first moved to this region as a high school senior, when his father was transferred to Pittsburgh by U. S. Steel. He is an honors graduate of North Allegheny High School, Thiel College and the University of Wisconsin Law School. He has been married for 38 years to Nikki Pirillo Nordenberg, who earned her Ph.D. at Pitt. The Nordensbergs have three adult children — Erin, Carl and Michael.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR STEVE PEDERSON

There is an unmistakable briskness in Steve Pederson's walk. It is a stride that conveys this clearly is a man on the move.

Spend 10 minutes talking to him about the state of Pitt Athletics and you understand his enthusiasm to get from place to place.

This past March was a perfect example. In the span of three days, Pederson flew between a pair of men's and women's NCAA Tournament sites, where Pitt's nationally ranked teams were competing, and back to Pittsburgh for the beginning of spring football practice.

The Pitt athletic director wouldn't have it any other way.

Pederson's many travels by planes, trains and automobiles mean the Panthers are going to some exciting places. That was especially true during the 2008-09 academic year.

The University of Pittsburgh was one of only four institutions nationally to have its football team advance to a bowl game, its men's basketball team reach the NCAA's Elite Eight and its women's basketball team make the Sweet 16. (The others were Connecticut, Oklahoma and Michigan State.)

Each of those three Pitt teams were fixtures in the Top 25 last year. Men's basketball, in fact, reached No. 1 in the polls — twice — for the first time in school history. The women's basketball team finished with a No. 15 ranking, matching its highest final rating ever.

Individually, Pitt student-athletes earned All-America and Academic All-America honors, while continuing to graduate and achieve in the classroom at unprecedented levels.

But, as Pederson likes to say, "As great as the past has been at Pitt, the future is even brighter. I get up every morning so excited to come to work at this great university."

Pederson enters his ninth year as Pitt athletic director. His initial tenure, from 1996-2002, was characterized by a dramatic revitalization of the Panthers' fortunes — on and off the fields of play. His return to the university in November 2007 gave the Pitt Athletic Department an instant shot of adrenaline that continues to be felt two years later.

His ability to galvanize people and programs prompted Pitt chancellor Mark Nordenberg to say, "In my judgment, and this assessment is shared by countless others, Steve Pederson is one of this country's most talented and accomplished athletic directors."

The key to accomplishment, Pederson believes, is aspiration — the Panthers will work hard and aim high in every endeavor. That philosophy resonates with each Pitt student-athlete and staffer, and is the driving spirit behind his department mantra of "Only Big Dreams."

Pederson has Pitt dreaming big again for 2009-10.

On the eve of the new academic year, he announced an exciting partnership with Nike that will make the Panthers one of the finest outfitted programs in the country. Each of the Panthers' 19 intercollegiate sports teams will wear Nike footwear, uniforms, practice gear and equipment. The long-term partnership will outfit more than 450 student-athletes at the University of Pittsburgh.

Also kick-starting the year has been the continued progress being made in the construction of an Olympic Sports Complex at the peak of upper campus. The complex will transform 12 acres of land and result in state-of-the-art facilities for Pitt's baseball, softball, men's and women's soccer, and men's and women's track and field programs. This initiative will not only give Pitt student-athletes nationally competitive facilities, but also rejuvenate an untapped area that neighbors the University of Pittsburgh campus.

To those familiar with Pederson's first tour at Pitt, the tremendous momentum of the past 18 months comes as no surprise.

During his initial Pitt tenure, Pederson hired six Big East Conference Coach-of-the-Year honorees (football, men's and women's basketball, baseball, track and field and volleyball), an unprecedented achievement by a Big East athletic director.

In 1999 he charged an unknown coach from Northern Arizona University with the task of resurrecting the Panthers' struggling men's basketball program. That coach, Ben Howland, would build Pitt into a Big East power and was named the consensus National Coach of the Year in 2002.

Pitt, which had not been to the NCAA Tournament in nine years, advanced to the "Sweet 16" in 2002 after posting a school-record 29 victories. The following season, Pitt would reach No. 2 in the polls, capture its first Big East Tournament championship and again advance to the NCAA regional semifinals. Since that time, Pitt basketball has become one of the nation's most consistent winners, advancing to eight consecutive NCAA Tournaments from 2002-2009.

Current Pitt basketball coach Jamie Dixon, the 2009 Naismith National Coach of the Year, recalled how instrumental Pederson was in helping to lure him to Pittsburgh to serve with Howland a decade ago.

"Steve was the person who originally convinced me to come to the University of Pittsburgh back in 1999," Dixon said. "He has continued to be a tremendous friend and a person I have regularly sought out for advice and direction over the years... Everyone in our department is going to benefit from his leadership."

Pitt football also was renewed under Pederson's watch. Upon his arrival, the Panthers were coming off seven consecutive seasons without a bowl. By the end of his tenure, Pitt earned four bowl berths in six years, including back-to-back postseason wins in 2001 and 2002. The '02 team finished 9-4, the program's best mark in 20 years, and ranked No. 18 in the final polls.

One of the stars of that 2002 team was receiver Larry Fitzgerald, who would become a unanimous All-American and now is an All-Pro performer for the Arizona Cardinals.

"When I decided to go to Pitt, it was for many reasons — a great school, a great football tradition and great people," Fitzgerald said. "Steve Pederson was one of those great people who made me feel like Pitt was the place for me. I couldn't be happier that Steve is back."

PITT

While Pederson was instrumental in helping to revive Pitt football's present, he was very attentive to honoring the program's historic past. One of his first major steps as athletic director was to retire the jerseys of all-time Pitt greats Mike Ditka, Marshall Goldberg and Joe Schmidt. Pederson later initiated the Pitt jersey retirement of Mark May, the Panthers' lone Outland Trophy winner.

Pitt enjoyed tremendous achievements in attendance under Pederson. In NCAA Division I men's basketball, Pitt ranked among the nation's top five schools in attendance increase for two consecutive years (2001-02 and 2002-03). The 2002-03 basketball season — the inaugural campaign in the 12,508-seat Petersen Events Center — was sold out. Capitalizing on the exciting and unanticipated success of the 2001-02 basketball team, Pitt held a highly successful "select your seat" campaign for prospective season-ticket holders that simultaneously achieved customer satisfaction as well as enhanced fundraising.

In football, Pederson formed a marketing and ticket pricing plan that resulted in record attendance for the 2003 season. Season tickets were soldout for the '03 campaign as the Panthers averaged an all-time record 59,197 fans for their home season, surpassing the previous mark of 54,818 set in 1982.

Pederson's tenure witnessed a major strengthening of Pitt's athletic infrastructure. With Chancellor Nordenberg, he helped shape the vision of the Petersen Events Center, the state-of-the-art convocation center that dramatically revolutionized Pitt's campus upon its opening in 2002.

The Events Center is widely considered one of the finest college basketball venues in the country and has also been a major asset for student life, providing outstanding recreational facilities and a fitting place for graduation ceremonies.

Pederson was at the forefront of the football program's move into the UPMC Sports Performance Complex, which included the forging of a unique relationship between UPMC, a professional sports franchise and college athletic program. He personally oversaw the design and layout of the Panthers' Duratz Athletic Complex, which houses Pitt's football offices and training areas, and has been described as the finest facility for a college football program in the country.

Son Mark with wife Brooke, daughters Kristin and Kari with Tami and Steve Pederson.

Pitt football gained a sparkling new home in Heinz Field under Pederson's watch in 2001. The Panthers gained a prominent presence at the new stadium with their logos on the seating, gates and signage. Pederson additionally initiated the renaming of Martindale Street to "Tony Dorsett Drive" to further enhance Pitt's identity on the North Shore.

"Steve Pederson made many important contributions during his first tenure as Pitt's athletic director from which the university is still seeing the benefits today," said Pittsburgh Steelers chairman Dan Rooney. "He played an integral role in the development of Heinz Field and the UPMC Sports Performance Complex where both Pitt and the Steelers run their football operations."

Fitzgerald Field House underwent a major renovation in 1998-99, providing Pitt's Olympic sports programs with new locker and training facilities. Trees Field also underwent major upgrades to accommodate both baseball and Pitt's new softball program.

During his five years at Nebraska (2002-07), Pederson was also at the forefront of significant facilities construction, including a $51 million expansion to Memorial Stadium. The project resulted in new football facilities as well as new strength, sports medicine and indoor facilities for baseball, softball, soccer and sand volleyball. Additionally, the women's volleyball, gymnastics and rifle teams received a new office complex. Athletics fundraising doubled over his final four years, going from $9 million annually in 2003 to $16 million his final year.

Nebraska achieved at exceptional levels athletically and academically during his tenure. In 2006-07, the Cornhuskers won the national championship in women's volleyball, while the football team won the 2006 Big 12 North title and advanced to its first New Year's Day bowl game since 2001. Overall, 15 Nebraska teams earned NCAA invitations. Academically, Nebraska earned a school-record 94% graduation rate, the highest in the Big 12 as Cornhusker student-athletes achieved a combined 3.0 grade-point average during the 2007 spring semester.

Pederson and his wife Tami have three children: Mark, Kari and Kristin. Mark was married to the former Brooke Gillette in July 2009.

Freddie Fu, M.D., has been the head team physician and orthopaedic surgeon for the Pitt athletic department since 1986, and the David Silver Professor and chairman of the Department of Orthopaedic Surgery at the Pitt School of Medicine since 1997.

Dr. Fu is known worldwide for his pioneering surgical techniques to treat sports-related injuries to the knee and shoulder and for his extensive scientific and clinical research in the biomechanics of such injuries. He is lauded especially for his scientific research and clinical expertise in treating the commonly injured anterior cruciate ligament (ACL), the main stabilizing ligament of the knee. Because of his reputation, Dr. Fu attracts both athletic and non-athletic patients from all over the globe, and is frequently sought after as an expert by top national and international media covering sports, medicine and science.

Dr. Fu sees patients in his clinic at the UPMC Center for Sports Medicine, one of the world's largest, most comprehensive facilities of its kind, located within the UPMC Sports Performance Complex. Partly designed by Dr. Fu, the complex also houses the indoor and outdoor training facilities of the Pitt Panthers and the Pittsburgh Steelers.

DR. CHRISTOPHER HARNER

Christopher Harner, M.D., co-head team physician and orthopaedic surgeon for the Pitt Panthers football team, is the Blue Cross of Western Pennsylvania Professor of orthopaedic surgery at the Pitt School of Medicine. He's also chief of the division of sports medicine at UPMC, medical director and director of education at the UPMC Center for Sports Medicine, where he also sees athletic and non-athletic patients in his clinic.

Dr. Harner specializes in the clinical research and surgical treatment of sports-related injuries, especially those to the knee ligaments and cartilage. He was among the first surgeons in the country to perform knee meniscus transplants in the early 1990s. (The meniscus is the crescent-shaped cushion inside the knee joint commonly damaged along with ligament injuries.) Dr. Harner's extensive clinical, scientific and academic leadership has been recognized through numerous international awards and grants.

DR. DAVID STONE

David Stone, M.D., is the associate team physician for Pitt Panthers football and an assistant team physician for the Pitt athletic department. A fellowship trained primary care sports medicine physician, Dr. Stone specializes in diagnosing and treating all types of athletic injuries and illnesses and is in many cases the first physician Pitt athletes see before a determination is made on the course of action to treat an injury or manage a potential injury.

Dr. Stone sees athletic and non-athletic patients in his clinic at the UPMC Center for Sports Medicine. He is an assistant professor in the Department of Orthopaedic Surgery at the Pitt School of Medicine.

DR. VONDA WRIGHT

Vonda Wright, M.D., is an associate team physician and orthopaedic surgeon for the Pitt Panthers football team. One of few women in her field, along with Pitt's Dr. Robin West, she is assistant professor of orthopaedic surgery at the Pitt School of Medicine.

In addition to her work with young athletes, Dr. Wright has a special clinical and research interest in masters athletes (over age 40) and how physical aptitude affects mobility, independence and other aspects of general health as people age. She is the director of the Performance and Research Initiative for Masters Athletes (PRIMA), the first program of its kind in a medical setting. She sees patients in her clinics at the UPMC Center for Sports Medicine and UPMC Shadyside.

Dr. Wright is frequently quoted by local and national media as an expert in sports medicine, orthopaedic and healthy aging issues in active older adults.

DR. ROBIN WEST

Robin West, M.D., is an assistant team physician and orthopaedic surgeon for the Pitt Panthers football team. One of few women in her field, along with Pitt's Dr. Vonda Wright, she is assistant professor of orthopaedic surgery at the Pitt School of Medicine.

Dr. West is also the head team physician for the Pitt men's basketball team, a consultant to the medical team for the Pittsburgh Steelers and member of the NFL Team Physicians Society. A specialist in treating all types of musculoskeletal athletic injuries, Dr. West is especially interested in researching the biomechanics of knee ligament injuries, aimed at improving prevention and treatment methods. Dr. West sees athletic and non-athletic patients in her clinics at the UPMC Center for Sports Medicine and UPMC South Hills in Bethel Park.

DR. MARK RODOSKY

Mark Rodosky, M.D., is an assistant team physician for the Pitt Panthers football team, specializing in the treatment and rehabilitation of shoulder and elbow injuries. He is the chief of the division of shoulder and elbow surgery at UPMC, and an assistant professor of orthopaedic surgery at the Pitt School of Medicine.

Dr. Rodosky sees athletic and non-athletic patients in his clinic at the UPMC Center for Sports Medicine.

PITT PANTHERS FOOTBALL/ UPMC SPORTS MEDICINE TEAM

More than 500 University of Pittsburgh student-athletes receive medical care provided by the University's athletic training program.

The University of Pittsburgh has a proud tradition of athletic training education. The undergraduate program is accredited by the National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA). Pittsburgh also provides graduate education at the master's and doctoral level.

Established in 1975, the athletic training program prepares students for a career in the multidisciplinary field of sports medicine. Upon completion of the athletic training education program, the student is eligible for the NATA administered certification examination.

Pittsburgh athletes receive treatment in two athletic training rooms. Each sport has a full-time certified athletic trainer or certified graduate assistant and student athletic trainers assigned to provide medical coverage during all practices and games. The staff is dedicated to providing all aspects of prevention, evaluation, management and rehabilitation of injuries and illnesses.

The sports medicine staff also runs a sports medicine clinic at the UPMC Sports Performance Complex for all athletes to be evaluated by one of the sports medicine physicians. The South Side structure, which includes the Center for Sports Medicine, an indoor practice facility, and four grass practice fields, combines the resources of a major academic and clinical system with professional and collegiate sport team programs. This clinic provides the athletes with an opportunity to be seen by specialists as well as providing the student athletic trainer with an outstanding learning environment.

The UPMC clinic for Pitt athletes is led by Dr. Freddie Fu, Pitt head team physician, and Dr. Christopher Harner, co-head team physician. Other clinic physicians are: Drs. David Stone and Vonda Wright, associate team physicians, and assistant team physicians Drs. Robin West and Mark Rodosky; Dr. Jeanne Doperak; and sports medicine fellow Dr. Hector Mejia.

The world-renowned UPMC Sports Medicine Concussion Program is also available to Pitt athletes. The program is led by neuropsychologists Drs. Mark Lovell and Michael Collins, assisted by neurosurgeon Dr. Dade Lundsford.

In addition, a comprehensive staff of consulting specialists from throughout UPMC are part of the sports medicine team caring for all Pitt athletes.

OBTAINING MEDIA CREDENTIALS

Credentials for Pitt home games are issued to working media only and should be requested as early as possible due to space limitations and demand.

All credential requests should be made online at www.sportssystem.com/pitt.

Media organizations covering Pitt and the visiting school on a regular basis will receive top priority. All other credentials for print media will be issued on the basis of circulation. Only radio stations with a full-time sports director conducting a daily sports show or members of the Pittsburgh ISP Sports Network will be considered for credentials.

GAME DAY MEDIA ENTRANCE

Press members must enter Heinz Field with their credentials through the designated entrance on the west side of the stadium, off Allegheny Avenue. The media entrance is just past Gate A, directly across from the Carnegie Science Center. After checking in with security, take the elevator up to the fourth floor for access to the press box.

GAME DAY MEDIA WILL CALL

Credentials that cannot be mailed may be obtained on game day at media will call, located at the media entrance on the west side of the stadium off Allegheny Avenue. Media will call opens two hours before kickoff. A photo ID must be shown to receive credentials.

GAME DAY TELEPHONES/WIRELESS SERVICE

The media relations office supplies an adequate number of telephones in the press box for general use by visiting writers. Credential requests should indicate interest in the use of these phones. Personal phone lines at assigned seats can be ordered by contacting the media relations office and obtaining a phone line request form. Orders must be placed at least four days prior to game day. Wireless Internet service is available to media members in the Heinz Field press box.

PHOTOGRAPHY ROOM

There is a photo room easily accessible from the field for covering photographers. Enter the tunnel located closest to the Pitt sideline in the closed (north) end of the stadium.

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS

The postgame press conference for Pitt home games will be held in the media compound, located conveniently off the administrative offices lobby by the press box elevator. Coach Dave Wannstedt and select Pitt players will attend the press conference. Pitt's locker room is closed to the media and the public. Opponent interviews will be held in a room connected to the visitor's locker room.

WEEKLY PRESS CONFERENCE

Coach Wannstedt will conduct his weekly press conferences Mondays, beginning at noon. The conferences will be held at the UPMC Sports Performance Complex. When obliged by the upcoming opponent, a 10-minute telephone hookup with the opposing coach will take place before the press conference. Transcripts as well as audio/video archives of Coach Wannstedt's press conferences are available on www.PittsburghPanthers.com.

BIG EAST FOOTBALL TELECONFERENCE

Coach Wannstedt will be available for interviews via a Big East Football Teleconference every Monday from 11:20 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. Contact the conference media relations office at (401) 453-0660 for the dial-in number and weekly replays.

PRACTICE COVERAGE

The initial 30 minutes of Pitt football practice, Tuesday through Thursday, are open to the media for observation. Photographers are also free to shoot practice during this time. The duration of the workout is closed. Media members should contact E.J. Borghetti or Mendy Nestor in advance for practice times and proper clearance. All practices will be held at the UPMC Sports Performance Complex.

WEEKLY INTERVIEWS

All interviews must be arranged through the media relations office at least 24 hours in advance. Please note the following interview opportunities:

COACH WANNSTEDT PRACTICE PRESS BRIEFINGS

Coach Wannstedt will hold a press briefing on the field before each practice on weekdays. Consult the media relations office for exact times.

PLAYER AND ASSISTANT COACH INTERVIEWS

Player and assistant coach interviews will be held before practice at a designated time. Consult the media relations office for a weekly schedule. The deadline for player interviews during game weeks is Thursday at noon. The media relations office will not release player telephone numbers.

PITT

Calling all the Pitt football action this year will be, clockwise from top, Bill Fralic, Foge Fazio and Bill Hillgrove.

PITTSBURGH ISP SPORTS NETWORK

The University of Pittsburgh and its multi-media rights holder, ISP Sports, provide the Panthers with thoroughly comprehensive radio coverage. Pitt football is broadcast on the Pittsburgh ISP Sports Network. Game broadcasts air over a loyal network of stations, including flagships 94.5 3WS (WWSW-FM) and Fox Sports Radio 970 (WBGG-AM).

Broadcasts include:

- A two-hour football pregame show.
- "Panther Hotline," an hour-long call-in show following postgame coverage.
- A weekly Dave Wannstedt Show on Fox Sports Radio 970, airing live from the Pittsburgh Steak Company (1924 East Carson Street), on Wednesdays from 7-8 p.m. Coach Wannstedt previews the upcoming game and takes questions from callers listening on many of the same Pittsburgh ISP Sports Network affiliates that carry Pitt game broadcasts.

For the 36th consecutive year, Bill Hillgrove will be the "Voice of the Panthers." Hillgrove's accurate and descriptive style paints the picture for Pitt fans listening to the network. Hillgrove has a long association with the Panthers and Pittsburgh sports scene. Prior to taking over the play-by-play duties, Hillgrove served as the Panthers' color analyst from 1970-73. He has also served as the play-by-play man for Pitt basketball broadcasts since 1969.

A popular and well-known Pittsburgh sports personality, Hillgrove has long been a Panther ambassador of good will. He is a 1962 graduate of Duquesne and has also been the Pittsburgh Steelers' play-by-play announcer since 1995.

Hillgrove was named the 2007 recipient of the prestigious Chris Schenkel Award for excellence in college football broadcasting.

Bill Fralic, one of college football's greatest offensive linemen during his Pitt playing career from 1981-84, enters his sixth year as color analyst. Fralic was a three-time first team All-American, earning unanimous status his final two seasons. He became the first offensive lineman to twice finish in the top 10 of the Heisman Trophy balloting, placing sixth in 1984 and eighth in 1983.

The second player taken overall in the 1985 NFL Draft, Fralic went on to an exceptional pro career from 1985-93, playing eight years with the Atlanta Falcons and his final season with the Detroit Lions. He was selected to the Pro Bowl four times.

Entering his second year with Pitt football radio broadcasts is Serafino "Foge" Fazio, whose deep ties to Pitt football include time as a player, assistant coach and head coach.

Fazio was an All-East center and team MVP as a senior at Pitt in 1959. After playing for the Boston Patriots of the American Football League for one season, he would embark on a four-decade coaching career that included time in both the college and NFL ranks.

He would serve his alma mater as linebackers coach (1969-72; 1977-79), defensive coordinator (1979-81) and, ultimately, head coach (1982-85). Fazio was part of seven bowl teams at Pitt, including five that finished ranked among the nation's Top 10 at season's end.

In addition to game broadcasts, Fazio will also contribute to Pitt's pregame show and do postgame locker room interviews.

As of July 2009, the Pittsburgh ISP Sports Network lineup of football stations included:
